TESTING THE NEEDS

There's a lot of insurance written to satisfy the needs of others. Lending institutions require insurance to protect their interest in mortgages and installment loans. The State requires insurance to protect thhe interests of employees against accidental injury.

But, what about YOUR interests for your family property or business operations — a program expressly designed to satisfy your needs.

The best test we know is two fold:

1. Determine the kinds of loss to which you are exposed.
2. Protect against those losses which you could not reasonably pay out of your own resources.

We've been in the risk management business a long time; assisting people to identify those hazards which they can control and to economically insure against the risks that are beyond their control. If this is the kind of insurance service that appeals to you, won't you give us a call.

Writes, Directs Play At University

The delightful and nostalgic days of radio will be recreated on stage when the West Virginia University Theatre at Morgantown presents "And That's All There Is. . . There Isn't Any More. . ."

The oral interpretation, written and directed by Kathryn G. Funderburk, will be presented at 8:15 p. m. Friday and Saturday, Sept. 21-22, and Sept. 25-29 in the Creative Arts Studio Theatre.

The play by Mrs. Funderburk is based on old radio program scripts.

Mrs. Funderburk decided to write the play after attending an Interpretation Festival at Towson State College. She began work on the script about six months ago.

"Radio is purely auditory but in those days many interesting things happened in the studio while the show was being performed," she explained. "We are recreating the days of radio as it was in the studio, but we also must supply a visual element. So we are having sound effects, people, orchestra, girls' trio and original thirties costumes."

Mrs. Funderburk, a WVU drama instructor, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard I. Gonder, Sr., Alder Street, Oakland.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

A couple weeks ago your paper was throwing rocks at the county government in reference to the police rattling sabers. This week the Postal department is no good. I paid for your paper at North Glade church and it cost me 5 cents more. I think the taxpayer is the one who is inefficient. Newspapers should create interest in education, community government, larning on the county level. The Republican is an excellent newspaper. More effort should be devoted to articles that will motivate the county citizens in improving our county, which in my opinion is the best out of the twenty-three counties in the state.

County newspapers help us maintain our freedom. If we lose that the voters' and taxpayers are going to ask—"How did it happen?"

Troop 95 Helps Handicapped Boy

The Boy Scouts' motto, "Be Prepared," means more than just words to Troop 95 of Loch Lynn, which recently demonstrated their preparedness to give aid where needed.

Boys in the troop voted to provide companionship and teach fishing to a mentally handicapped young man from the Silver Spring area this past summer.

Harlow Osborne, a financial consultant from Silver Spring, was looking for a place to take his son for a fishing vacation. As he had been here himself several years before, he chose to come to Deep Creek Lake.

He contacted Maurice Brookhart, and the word was passed to various troops that Osborne asked that some young people provide companionship for his son Carl.

Robert Heginbotham's Troop 95 volunteered, backed by parental approval, and Mr. Osborne and his son came to a rented cabin in Green Glade the last week in August.

Scott Heginbotham, Brent Jenson and Jeff Savage, aided by non-scouter Bruce Heginbotham, taught the young man to bowl, and they spent hours every day on the lake fishing. They caught "their share" of fish, and young Osborne nearly tipped the boat the first time he had a bite.

The troop later refused a generous check from Mr. Osborne, who is a former Eagle Scout with over 50 merit badges to his credit, and will get no badges to their cooperation.

According to Mr. Heginbotham, the experience of helping one less fortunate than themselves was ample reward for the scouts. No mere money could buy their feeling of satisfaction and self-worth after helping another human being.

Common Sense . . .

Recently speaking at a Conc[illegible] college in O[illegible] Dr. Max Rafferty, Ph.D., said that "long before the end of the 20th century there is going to be a successful challenge to the arrogant assumption that teachers should not be held responsible for the product they turn out." Rafferty advocates standardized testing as one measurement of children's performance.

"If we're still paying bad teachers the same amount we pay good teachers, then public education will be ready for the boneyard," he declared. "And unless we drastically modify the network of state laws currently giving ironclad tenure to teachers, so that we can fire the senile, the stupid and the subversive, public education is going to be a dead duck."

Asked, in the question and answer period, "As an advocate of patriotism, how do you explain to students America's mistakes," Rafferty answered: "I tell them they love their mother, and their mother makes mistakes all the time; but that doesn't mean you can't love your mother."

Dr. Rafferty is one expert in the field of education who doesn't mind saying what he thinks. We believe he has real points to ponder.

DID YOU HEAR THE ONE ABOUT THE TRAVELING SALESMAN WHO GOT A FREE HIGHWAY EMERGENNCY KIT WITH HIS AUTO LOAN?*

"That's a very beautiful emergency kit," said the traveling salesman, "it certainly would be a handsome addition to the new car I'm planning to buy."

"Well," replied the GNB loan officer, "anyone who takes out an auto loan from GNB between now and December 15, 1973, gets one of these kits free."

The traveling salesman did not want to appear too anxious in front of the banker. "Is it practical?" he asked.

The banker smiled, opened the luggage-like carrying case and began describing the contents.

"An aerosol fire extingnisher, good for all types of small fires, even electrical, oil or grease.

"An aerosol tire inflator that inflates and seals flat tires in less than a minute.

"An emergency blinker with a large suction cup base that you can position on your car top or the roadside. It's visible for miles.

"A high intensity spotlight with a 12-foot cord that plugs into your cigarette lighter.

"Eight-foot booster cables. Six-foot gas siphon pump. A first aid kit complete with a 25-page first-aid book."

The salesman was amazed. "And you're giving this away? Free? Why it must be worth more than $20.00 retail!"

"Exactly," answered the banker. "You have a good eye for value. Were you ever a banker?"

"No," said the salesman. "I work for a living."

The banker did not laugh. Oh, he was friendly enough, but after all!

"There's only one problem," said the salesman. "I may not be able to pick out the car I want before December 15th."

So the banker told him that if he signed up now, GNB would reserve his auto loan for 100 days at no charge. Not only could he get his free highway emergency kit, but he'd have plenty of time to shop around for a good car deal. So the salesman signed, and left the bank convinced that this was the best auto loan deal he had ever experienced.

If you're a traveling salesman, doctor, painter, or anybody looking for a practical, worthwhile free gift with your auto loan, we hope this particular traveling salesman story will make you smile — all the way to the bank.

DRIVE-IN OR DRIVE-UP?

Over a decade ago when Proudfoots provided a new and unique way of giving service to the community it was known as "Drive-In" window service. This was taken from the drive-in theatres and food services that were popular in a fast growing economy in our country.

Now along came "Drive-In" banks in the early 60's and only then did we discover that "drive-in" was grammatically incorrect — thus since we were not driving into the business this type of service was changed to "Drive-Up Window" Service.

Whether you like to be correct in your use of grammar or not, you are always right when you use the convenience of Proudfoot's exclusive "Drive-In or Up" Window Service.

How does it help you? Phone ahead your next drug store list and find out how easy it is to use. Service is a must for Proudfoot's customers.

Is there a limit to what you can order for the service window? No limit — prescriptions are always at the top of the list but would you believe newspapers?

There is also a large service door for large items such as wheel chairs, hospital beds and other convalescent aids which are stocked at all times for your convenience.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
BY LAWRENCE W. ALTROUSE

EXCHANGING GLORY

Lesson for September 24, 1973

Background Scripture: Romans 1:1 through 2:16
Devotional Reading: Romans 1:1-12.

A man who worked at the exchange desk of a large department store once told me, "You wouldn't believe some of the people who come to me!" Although there are many legitimate exchanges, he said, many times people want to exchange merchandise simply because they find it difficult to be satisfied with what they have.

Rev. Althouse

I do not find that difficult to believe for I have observed many times that one of our most pervasive human personality traits is our constant dissatisfaction with what we have. The old proverb, of course, is that "The grass is always greener on the other side of the fence." Who has not chuckled at the ridiculous sight of a cow, her head through fence staves, chewing ernestly at grass just outside her pasture and ignoring the equally appealing grass upon which she is standing.

The truth for a lie

Of course, the reason we chuckle at dumb animals is frequently in that we know that people often behave in much the same way. People often seem to have the same difficulty in seeing what is valuable in their own midst. As Paul put it to the Christians at Rome, ". . . they exchanged the truth about God for a lie . . ." (1:25).

For some strange reason, the truth is often less attractive to us than a lie or an error. Most people believe lies because they have a desire to believe easy lies rather than hard truths. If the truth is challenging, if it requires something of us, we will tend to embrace a lie that asks nothing of us. Very often, then, people will exchange the truth about God for a lie because the lie is more comfortable in the short run. We give up eternal truth, exchanging it for untruths and half-truths because of the lure of temporary gain or benefit.

A poor exchange

Thus, what may seem a good deal now may very well turn out to be a poor exchange, the worst of deals. Is it in one of Aesop's fables that a dog with a bone in his mouth stares fascinated at his reflection in the water. Thinking his reflection to be another dog with a bigger bone, he opens his mouth to growl and claim the prize below. In doing so, of course, he loses the bone he has and gets nothing but the shattering of an illusion.

So it is with men. Paul says it simply, but eloquently: "Claiming to be wise, they became fools, and exchanged the glory of the immortal God for images resembling mortal man . . ." (1:23).

Of course, technically speaking, we no longer worship idols, god-like figurines. But idolatry goes beyond that and means accepting something less than God as a substitute for him. Thus defined, idolatry is still with us! How often we pass up the Creator for a creature or a created thing, exchanging it and letting go the glory of God.

Mt. Storm Plant Gets Extension On Unit Repairs

The West Virginia Air Pollution commission granted a three week extension to the Virginia Electric Power company to operate its No. 1 unit at the Mt. Storm plant.

The unit was shut down Saturday for overhaul of boiler and turbine and for the tie-in of the new electrostatic precipitator to its stack. But an explosion in Unit 2 put that unit out of operation with boiler damage, so No. 1 was put back in operation.

The unit had been operating at 365 megawatts to cut down the particulate matter from the stack. It has a capacity of 565 megawatts.

The new No. 3 unit went on line last Tuesday but was producing only 40 megawatts of electricity until all "bugs" have been cleared up.

In six weeks all are expected to produce 1,675 megawatts of power.

Evidence from on going research in this field is growing and it is leadinn to the conclusion that the size and number of a child's brain cells may be reduced by infant malnutrition. A newborn weighing two pounds under the normal birth weight may, when he reaches 7 years of age show a 6 month lag in learning skills.

UGLY OR BEAUTIFUL?

It all depends on whether or not you are a lobster-lover. To those who enjoy this succulent fruit of the sea, a lobster is a thing of beauty. To others, it seems incredibly ugly.

Beauty is "in the eye of the beholder," but, contrary to another old saying, it is not skin deep. True beauty often can't be seen at all. It is something you feel, something of which you are aware—not necessarily seen.

Beauty, for instance, surrounds you when you walk into a church. There is something in the atmosphere that you can't quite define. No matter what's been happening to you, in God's Home, you feel a sense of peace, of sanctuary.

Had that experience lately?

Lunar Phase

The moon waxes during the week, but does not pass through a phase until next week. Moonset ranges from 7:03 p. m. this evening to 11:21 p. m. next Wednesday evening. There are several weeks each year during which the moon does not pass through a phase since the lunar phase is related to position of the moon relative to the sun and the earth.

Lunar Apogee

Wednesday at 7:00 p. m. the moon will be at its greatest distance from the earth during this lunation. This distance is 404,000 kilometers (251,100 miles).

Visible Planets

Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn are visible this week. Venus sets almost two hours after sunset. Mars rises shortly after sunset among the stars of Aries. Jupiter is among the stars of Capricornus, setting near midnight. Saturn rises about midnight as do the stars of Gemini.

Jupiter will be stationary against the star background on Friday. It will appear to move eastward after that day since the earth has passed the planet as they journey about the sun.

Other Planetary Events

Pluto will be in conjunction with the sun today. This means that Pluto, the sun and earth are in line in that order. Tuesday Mercury will be at its greatest distance from the sun. The aphelion is 69.8 million kilometers (43.4 million miles) from the sun.

Daylight Decreases

Daylight decreases sixteen minutes during the week. Today the sun is above the horizon eleven hours fifty-seven minutes. Wednesday the sun rises a 7:16 a. m., six minutes later than it did today and sets ten minutes earlier at 6:57 p. m.

Wheat Yields To Be Set By ASC

Yields to be used in connection with the 1974 wheat program will be established soon, J. Walter Margroff, Chairman, Garrett County ASC Committee, said today.

Mr. Margroff explained that farmers may choose to establish a yield based on actual past production rather than use a yield established by the County Committee on a jedgment basis. Those interested in proving their wheat yields under the 1971 program must apply at the County ASCS Oftiee no later than October 15, and furnish necessary proof of production. The years for which proof of production must be furnished are 1970, 1971 and 1972.

All farmers having a 1974 wheat allotment may apply under this proviston regardless of whether or not they participate in the program.

Outrageous Practice...

Paying welfare benefits to strikers is an outrageous imposition on the public treasury and private good. So states an article, "Let's Stop Subsidizing Strikes," by George Denison in October Reader's Digest, and we certainly agree.

Strikers are taking advantage of programs intended to assist the needy in order to prolong walkouts and force inflationary wage increases far in excess of productivity gains. So says Prof. M. L. Weidenbaum, of Washington university, St. Louis, Mo. We have seen such action in our own community, and it is not good.

Three major government programs are used to support striking workers—welfare, unemployment compensation, and food stamps.

The article suggests that Congress, state governments and administrative officials simply declare strikers ineligible for any tax-supported benefits. It also suggests that Social Security act be amended to deny states the right to pay unemployment compensation to striking workers; have HEW prohibit strikers from collecting federally sponsored welfare payments; and amend food stamp act to permit stamps to be used only by the needy.

Some members of Congress have already proposed that strikers be barred from receiving food stamps, declaring it contrary to the purpose of the program and that it constitutes an unwarranted intrusion by government into the labor-management bargaining process. Congress should be encouraged to pursue this problem with real zeal, and pass an effective law.

ASC Committee System Changed

Consolidation into a one-community county has been announced by the Garrett county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee for the election of farmer committeemen and administration of federal farm programs by committee members.

Committee chairman, J. Walter Margroff, said that the consolidation would provide several benefits, including the direct election of ASC county committeemen by farmers.

Until this year, county farmers voted for community committeemen, who in turn elected the county committee members. The county ASC committee has directed responsibility for administration of farm programs in the county, including the Wool, the Appalachian and the Feed Grain and Wheat Programs.

Now four communities will be consolidated so that the county becomes for ASC purposes, a one-community county. County farmers will elect in a mail election in December, one county ASC committee member and two alternates instead of three community committeemen and two alternates. Nominations will be accepted beginning October 1.

Mr. Margroff pointed out that the community committee system in the county has gradually become obsolete as travel and communication facilities had improved. Farm programs have been simplified and the number of farms have been reduced.

Thieves, or king-sized mice, entered Crellin school in the early hours last Friday morning, making off with nearly $20 worth of that prime rodent food—cheese.

State police are investigating.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

During past meetings of the Garrett County Planning Commission most of the discussion centered around population density in the Deep Creek Lake Basin Area and the need for its limitation in the future.

Little or nothing has been said about the obvious ecological problems concerning the lake and its environs.

The tremendous amount of jetsam and flotsam in the form of abandon and dilapidated docks debris 55 gallon drums derelict tree stumps and trash have created serious health and navigation hazards that detract from the beauty and popularity of Deep Creek Lake.

The State County and Penelec officials should get together and arrange for the removal of the above mentioned hazards forthwith. Now is the time to take some action while the water level is at its lowest during the year.

It should be remembered that Deep Creek Lake presents a tremendous value to Garrett County and the State of Maryland both from the standpoint of tax base and resort potential. Without this lake the commercial and residential properties in the area would be worth only a fraction of their present value.

Natural and man-made lakes have a life expectancy, the former a somewhat longer one than the latter, so please do something to prolong the life of Deep Creek Lake.

A motorized barge with a Diesel electric winch cable and grappling hooks could help to solve the pressing problem. The debris along with abandoned junk automobiles could be hauled on a flat-bed truck from the various paved roads that skirt the lake around its perimeter.

Public officials and property owners "wake up" before it's too late!!!

Sincerely yours
Norman J. Schleich

Community Spirit

There was an event recently in Anne Arundel County that was a refreshing change of pace from the happenings of government and politics and the demanding routine of our personal lives. The Glen Burnie Recreation Association dedicated a 1.97-acre plot of land, known as Recreation Acres, "forever to the youth of the community."

A highlight of the event was the participation of Mrs. Richard Nixon, who drove from Washington to join the citizens of the community for the happy occasion. It was my pleasure to welcome her to Maryland.

Behind the dedication was a stirring story of community effort to achieve a goal on a volunteer basis, even without the involvement of level of government.

For 12 years, the members of the Recreation Association met the annual mortgage and interest payments on their land by a continuous round of fund-raising projects. There were bull roasts, an annual Valentine Charity Ball, soft drink and hot dog stands at every parade, contributions from civic associations and dues of 50 cents for children and one dollar for adults.

Dollar by dollar, the citizens met their obligation. Their perserverance paid off, finally, in the completion of their commitment. The ceremony in which Mrs. Nixon participated marked the final payment and the burning of the mortgage. Now, Recreation Acres truly belongs to the community.

As we normally measure daily events in these times, what happened in Glen Burnie was of little importance outside that community. But Mrs. Nixon recognized it as an example of community spirit at its finest. All of us in Maryland can take pride in the accomplishment of the Glen Burnie Recreation Association and remember it as we go about our own pursuits. It is an example of what we all can do if we dedicate ourselves to the task.

Column For Homemakers

By Mrs. Freda Denison Extension Agent

Carefree Synthetics Fill The Bill For Fall

The shortage of natural fibers particularly wool, has caused designers and textile manufacturers to make even more fall fashions for '73 in synthetics. Many of them simulate the naturals but have the advantage of wonderful washability.

Synthetics show up as corduroys, velveteens, wool-like jerseys, sweater knits, fake furs and flannels. Tailorability is not sacrificed, and many designers find that the man-made fabrics print more colorfully than the naturals. The lighter weight of snythetics can mean more comfortable, year round wear. Synthetic natural blends are often used for suits, pants, skirts and dresses.

Easy-Care Corduroy Takes A Bow

Every fall people are reminded of corduroy, the old-time favorite that thrives on machine washing and drying.

Test garments for colorfastness—strong colors must be washed and dried separately—turn them inside out and clean the washer and dryer filters before laundering. Use fabric softener for additional fluffiness, and, if ironing is necessary, do it from the wrong side on a thick towel.

Convict The Guilty

If, as it has happened in recent days, the rights of the innocent have been violated in the process of apprehending the guilty, it can also be said that the innocent have been victimized by failure of the courts to punish the guilty.

Former President of San Francisco State College Dr. S. I Hayakawa, calls attention to the decision of the California Supreme Court to overturn the conviction of 12 persons who had been found guilty, in the lower courts, of unlawful assembly and disturbing the peace.

Dr. Hayakawa points to events leading to the arrests and convictions. For over three years, a small band of militant radicals had kept the campus of S F. State College in turmoil. Two Presidents of the college were literally driven out of office, in rapid succession. There were countless incidents of classroom invasion, trashing, assault, destruction of property and incendiary fires. Students and professors were harassed and intimidated.

On January 23, 1969, the radicals announced their purpose to close the college entirely. There were calls for assassination of college officials a bomb explosion seriously injured a campus policeman, and a mob gathered. Arrests were made, and more than half proved not to be registered students. Subsequently, as shown by the record, a number of them were found guilty as charged. Now, however, four years after the event the soft-on-criminals California Supreme Court has reversed the convictions.

Comments Dr. Hayakawa: "People have a right to be protected in the performance of their lawful activities—whether retailing or golfing or studying in a university. It is a right that the California Supreme Court does not appear to have recognized." U. S. Press Association.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN
BEALL JR.

Medical Matters

The past week has been one of ups and downs for health legislation on Capitol Hill.

On the positive side of the ledger was the Senate approval of a bill to strengthen our nations health research activities. I was sadly disappointed, however, when the House upheld a presidential veto of the Emergency Medical Services Act.

In addition to my serving on the Senate Health Subcommittee, I have taken a strong personal interest in working to improve our emergency medical care. We have the equipment and know-how to save the lives of thousands of accident victims, but communities need help in meeting the initial costs of an EMS system.

We are fortunate to have special trauma centers in Baltimore and Washington, but even so, it was not possible to establish an important EMS communications network until a $1.5 million grant was received last year.

The EMS bill also prevented the closing of the Public Health Service hospitals in Baltimore and six other cities. These hospitals are important to their communities, and there should be time to review their conversion into community medical centers.

I joined in voting to override this veto in the Senate, and I don't believe we can let its defeat in the House be a final decision. I would now hope that we can quickly get to work on finding an accommodation between Congress and the President.

The medical research bill that was passed by the Senate will continue an important program of fellowships and training grants that are provided by the National Institute of Health.

The bill also dealt with the very sensitive subject of human experimentation. There is a growing concern, both in the health profession and the general public, about medical research involving human subjects, and we found good cause for this anxiety when the Health Subcommittee conducted hearings on this issue.

Of particular concern to me is the use of psychosurgery on persons considered to be emotionally disturbed or believed to be exhibiting abnormal behavior.

These operations involve the destruction of certain brain tissues, which is an irreversible process. The classical lobotomy, which was used years ago both successfully and unsuccessfully, is an example of an extreme psychosurgery technique.

Because of the uncertainties of these operations, and because of their permanent results, I believe there should be great reluctance to use psychosurgery until we know more about it.

I therefore offered an amendment which was accepted and added to the bill, calling for a thorough study of these operations by a National Commission for the Protection of Human Subjects. The commission would include scholars, lawyers and theologians as well as medical professionals.

The commission would establish guidelines for human experimentation in any medical practices supported wholly or in part by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Of course, I would hope that they would be observed by the entire medical community, as well.

We are on the brink of some of the greatest discoveries about the secrets of life, and this puts us at a critical time for making decisions about how we will proceed in these areas. I believe that this legislation will help us to set the standards that we need to protect ourselves.

Paragraph Opinions - - - -

"When a woman gets a job traditionally held by a man or enters a field heretofore dominated by men, that's news. Lately there's been much news of this nature. It's getting to be about as old hat as dog bites man. Comes now a man bites dog item—and we hasten to say that this figure of speech is not intended in the slightest degree as an insult to the ladies, for whom we have the most extreme regard. But consider if the characterization is not apt. For the first time in its 112 years during most of which time it enrolled only women, Vassar college has a male student government president. All well a little men's liberation is not a bad thing either."—Winsted Conn. Evening Citizen.

"About the high cost of living: cigarets cost about $2.83 a pound and I don't recall anyone complaining about them being high—yet to pay $1.89 a pound for beef steak drives some shoppers right up the wall. It's a funny thing, but I know people who'll pay 90 cents or $1.25 for a drink and never say a word about the high cost of drinking, but to pay over $1 a pound for hamburger—is a different story."—New London, Iowa, Journal.

"A lot has been said about the declining value of the dollar. Nevertheless, we don't know of any country that has declined American and."—Faribault, Minn. News.

A J. C. Penny company publication reveals that "when it comes to quitting smoking, men have it all over women. According to a government survey 26 percent of all adult smokers have quit, but only 11 percent of women smokers have dropped the habit. And those women who have quit are a lot less successful than male quitters. Between 1966 and 1970 one man in 12 who had quit went back to smoking, the ratio among women was one in nine."

News Editor Arnold D. Jeffcoat of Gun Week comments, "As long as the possibility exists that the government—any government—can arbitrarily order the surrender of all registered firearms, gun owners will oppose registration and owner licensing. Common sense demands it!"

"The habit of learning—once acquired—is not easily broken. I recall reading of a friend of Oliver Wendell Holmes asking the great man why he had taken up the study of Greek at the age of ninety-four. Holmes replied: 'Why my good sir, it is now or never!'"—William R. Gould, senior vice president, Southern California Edison company.

Sen. Mathias Seeks To Restore Title I Budget Funds

Sen. Charles McC. Mathias said today he is optimistic that the Senate will act to ease the impact of federal education funding charges which have seriously affected Title I school budgets in Garrett and 18 other counties.

A change from 1960 to 1970 census figures, combined with a House amendment to hold states "harmless" prevents the 19 Maryland districts from receiving sufficient Title One funds to continue special programs for disadvantaged school children.

Sen. Mathias said he is working with other members of the Senate Appropriations Committee to change the "hold harmless" provision from a statewide basis to a district-by-district basis.

The amendment would hold each school district in the nation harmless for 85 percent of the amount received in fiscal year 1973. "This will mean an additional $5.5 million for Maryland. It means 19 districts hard hit by the present formula would instead have the ability to absorb decreases over a period of years rather than suffering a severe one year drop in funds," Sen. Mathias said.

He continued that he is hopeful that the amendment will be added to both the HEW appropriation bill for the current fiscal year and the interim spending approval granted by Congress pending final action on the appropriations measure.

Sen. Mathias said that if the amendment is not successful in either subcommittee or committee deliberations, he will take his fight to the Senate floor, where it is expected to attract support from senators from other states.

Big Surplus May Balance Budget

An unexpected [illegible] for the fiscal year ending June 30 may allow Gov. Marvin Mandel to balance next year's budget without raising taxes, administration officials predicted.

The $121 million surplus for the last fiscal year, announced on Monday by the comptroller's office, [illegible] than what was expected. The surplus for fiscal 1973 is $13 million higher than the $940,000 surplus predicted in last year's budget.

[illegible] budget [illegible] a surplus of $83 million from state income tax collections and $981,000 surplus from collections of state sales tax receipts.

Gov. Mandel has continually stated there would be no tax increase next year. One of the major [illegible] in the comptroller's report was a reversal of [illegible] from the Social Services Administration [illegible] welfare rolls.

The governor has indicated he wants to keep the total budget for next year at around $2.75 billion, or [illegible] percent above this year's $2.5 billion budget.

Summons To Greatness

"Summons to Greatness," is a collection of inspirational thoughts and practical ideas from the messages and addresses of Richard M. Nixon, president of the United States.

Here is another one of the messages:

"America has gone through a long, dark night of the American spirit. But now that night is ending. Now we must let our spirits soar again. Now we are ready for the lift of a driving dream. We must not lose our capacity to dream, to see, amid the realities of today, the possibilities for tomorrow. And then—if we believe in our dreams—we also must wake up and work for them.

"The great principles and the great desires and the great dreams that unite men are infinitely stronger than those that divide them. And as we learn to dream together, we shall learn to work together, we shall live in peace together. Let us then count ourselves today among the hopeful realists.

"I am confident that in the years ahead Americans can look back on this period of our history with all of the difficulties that have been presented to us and we are going to be proud that we played a great role in the world, that we did not back away from the challenges that were presented to us; and that as a result of what we did, as a result of the sacrifices that Americans made, the world is a better place for everybody to live in.

"America, which has pioneered in the new abundance, and in the new technology, is called upon today to pioneer in meeting the concerns which have followed in their wake—in turning the wonders of science to the service of man.

"A man who never lost himself in a cause bigger than himself has missed one of life's mountaintop experiences. Only in losing himself does he find himself. Only then does he discover all the latent strengths he never knew he had and which otherwise would have remained ever dormant."

Syria's history is being unearthed along the Euphrates River before flood waters from a dam cover it.

Meet The Staff

DENNIS RODEHEAVER

This week our column is featuring Dennis Rodeheaver. He has been with Foodland for about 2½ years. Dennis started working at Foodland as a packer in the front end department. He worked in several different departments before he became a full-time produce department employee.

The personnel in the produce department has one of the most difficult jobs in the supermarket business. Produce is a very seasonal and perishable product. It must be carefully examined upon arrival at Foodland to insure its quality, and must be trimmed, trayed, and wrapped with great care to be sure the customer receives the freshest possible product. Dennis has the training, experience, and genuine concern that it takes to be a top notch produce man.

Another important aspect of a good produce man is being able to display the product in the correct packages, right variety, and color to create the greatest eye appeal. In this area, Dennis excels. Many of the displays you see in our produce department are made by Dennis Rodeheaver.

We at Foodland are very proud to have Dennis as a member of our team. He is a very likeable person and always has a smile for everyone.

Dennis is very interested in music and spends much of his spare time playing in a band and practicing. He is also in the process of building a new home. Dennis and his wife Miriam, reside in the Paughville area. They have one child.

III, Assistant Secretary of the Navy for Installations and Logistics, right. Rear Admiral John D. Chase, center, MSC commander, received an award for excellence of the command cost reduction program.

Frank T. Hayden, director of the Navy's Military Sealift Command, Ship Charter and Service Procurement Division, has been awarded the Secretary of the Navy's Cost Reduction Award for outstanding accomplishment in the cost reduction field during fiscal year 1972.

Plan Ski Lodge At Canaan Valley

Plans for construction of a 700-capacity ski lodge at Canaan Valley, in Tucker county, some thirty miles or more from Oakland, were announced last week by Gov. Arch Moore of West Virginia.

Moore said the lodge and an adjacent ice skating rink and year-round swimming pool would be built for $3.4 million, not much more than half the originally proposed cost, by use of modular construction.

The state has spent $3.2 million in recent years to develop the ski slopes and built lift but the area suffers from a shortage of overnight lodging.

Moore said modular construction—use of units fabricated elsewhere and brought to the site—was essential if any large scale lodging was to be made available in the Canaan Valley area.

When the development was first planned some 10 years ago the lodge cost was estimated at $5 million, and Moore had asked the 1973 legislature for that amount, but instead getting only $2.4 million. To that will be added $1 million from the Appalachian Regional Commission.

Moore said that in addition to the 200-room lodge, which would house up to 700 persons on busy ski weekends, the development would include an Olympic size ice skating rink and outdoor year-round swimming pool, all located one mile from the main ski slopes.

Bids were to be asked next April with construction to be completed in 90 days after it starts.

Meyersdale High Defeats Huskies

The Huskies lost the ball three times on fumbles and four more times on interceptions while gaining 280 yards themselves.

Northern next Saturday evening will invade Bruce High at Westernport in a Tri-Valley conference contest.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Pension Reform Passes

A pension reform bill just passed by the Senate can bring about safeguards that are of great importance to the more than 30 million American men and women who are enrolled in private pension plans.

The bill will guarantee workers the right to join an employee pension plan within a year of starting a job, and to receive a share of their pension entitlement after only five years.

It will also establish guidelines to make sure that private pension plans are adequately funded by the employers, and that such funds will be protected from misuse.

The legislation will set up a federal reinsurance program to take care of employees when a pension plan is terminated by bankruptcy or insufficient funding. Failures of this type affected more than 19,000 workers last year.

And it also makes a start on developing a system of pension portability, which would allow an employee to take his accumulated pension credits with him from one job to another.

It should be made clear that this bill does not affect everyone. It applies to private pension plans and self-employed persons, but it does not affect public employees or the military, although a study has been ordered for these groups, too. And while the bill covers all private pension plans, it does not require an employer to establish or maintain such a plan.

Vesting, or the eligibility of an employee for certain non-forfeitable benefits, is the most important part of the bill and deserves further explanation.

The vesting formula works as follows. An employee shall be eligible to join a pension plan no later than a year after starting to work, or age 50, whichever comes first.

Once the employee has taken part in the plan for five years, he becomes entitled to 25 per cent of his retirement benefits. This is the beginning of the vesting process.

Over the next five years, the employee's vested rights increase at a rate of 5 per cent, up to 50 per cent. For the five years after that, each year adds 10 per cent to his vested rights.

The result is a gradual accumulation of pension credits, up to a 100 per cent entitlement, or full vesting after 15 years.

This plan would end the outrageous reports of persons who spent 15 or 20 years working for an employer, only to lose their jobs—and with it their pension rights—just as they were about to retire or become eligible for a pension.

The vesting plan also helps the growing numbers of Americans who change jobs several times. If a pension plan requires 20 years of service before vesting begins, it is worthless to the employee who leaves after five or 10 years.

With vesting, however, an employee who leaves after eight years, for instance, would still be entitled to 40 per cent of his pension from the job he was leaving.

These provisions would be applied immediately to any pension plan that is started after the bill becomes law, but existing plans would be given until the end of 1975 to comply with the standards.

Not since the enactment of Social Security has there been a measure of such bearing on the retirement income of the American worker. It should, and I believe it will be, enacted by the 93rd Congress.

Tourism Development Program Announced

The Maryland Department of Economic and Community Development announced the inauguration of a new tourism development program under which matching State funds will be made available to county and municipality governments for the development and implementation of tourism programs.

About $200,000 will be available during the next year for special matching grants under the program, James F. Cunelik, deputy secretary of the department said today. A total of about $400,000 will be available, in addition to the regular appropriation.

"What we are trying to do under this program is to help local governments when feel that tourism offers an opportunity to broaden and strengthen the local economy to get a program under way," he said.

State In The Black

Aurora Firemen Get Donation From Oil Co.

A donation to the Aurora Volunteer fire department has added to the fund the department is raising to pay for a new fire truck, and firemen are hoping this will encourage others to contribute.

The donation mentioned came from the Deep Creek Oil Company, Inc., of Kitzmiller. Ernest Pl a tanker of the company became mixed from a tractor on Chest mountain and the Aurora company provided aid in the ensuing trouble.

A letter from Gerald R. Iman, president of the company to Aurora firemen had the following to say: "It was the your fine work and the help of the Rowlesburg department that a serious fire was prevented and the spill washed away. This donation will help your department with its expense." James F. Kisner, vice-president of the Aurora company, said this week that contributions to help pay for the truck were coming in slowly, but hoped the donation from the Oil company would give impetus to the project.

Soy-Beef Burgers Getting Known

Now to many areas are soy-beef burgers which are ground beef with added soy protein. This product has been used in institutions for a long time to extend high-cost meat protein.

Soybean protein is considered to be one of the most nutritious of the plant proteins. A soy-beef burger is practically as nourishing as an all meat hamburger.

At present, there is no uniform formula for use of soy products in ground beef. Most of the soy-beef mixtures have between 20 and 30 percent soy product and 70 and 80 percent ground beef. Most soy-beef burgers have about 30 percent fat content as do ground beef burgers.

During cooking soy-beef burgers lose less moisture and fat making a juicy product. As with other extenders, such as oatmeal and bread crumbs the soy mix helps to retain the meat juices in a meat loaf or in broiled patties.

Soy-beef burgers should cost significantly less than all beef burgers, but not all of them do. Some stores that use 25 percent soy flour charge 15 to 25 cents a pound less than all-beef Patburgers. But other stores are charging only 10 cents a pound less, which does not compensate for the smaller amount of beef used and the use of less cost soy products.

At the present time we have not found Soy Beef Burgers in our local markets, announced Miss Freda S. Denison.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information typical of the kind asked of me on comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

How does a community apply for federal assistance in constructing municipal waste water treatment facilities?

The Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 authorizes the Environmental Protection Agency to award grants in the amount of 75 percent of the allowable project costs for the construction of publicly owned and operated waste water treatment works. Formal applications should be made through the Maryland Department of Health. That agency will also supply information on Maryland requirements and assistance in solving water pollution problems.

Does the government have any material on the environment that would be suitable for a sixth grade class?

The Bureau of Land Management publishes a 160-page teacher's study guide entitled "All Around You." It is designed for grades three through eight and contains activities for interdisciplinary environmental studies in the classroom, the school yard, the community and the natural and rural environments. "Learning About the Environment" is for school children above grade five and describes the problems of environmental resources protection. A limited number of single copies are available from the Director, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D. C. 20240. Requests should be made on a school letterhead.

My uncle has been waiting for a VA benefit check that is overdue. What should I do?

Write to the VA regional office which has your claim file, including your uncle's name and his number. Do not write the Treasury Department as this will probably further delay his receiving the check.

What direction is the government taking in the area of solid waste resource recovery?

Comprehensive study of the recovery of useful energy or materials from solid wastes involves four broad types of recovery: systems of returnable, reusable products such as beverage containers; repulping systems to make similiar products as the original, including steel, glass, paper and aluminum; chemical conversions of raw material that provide a completely new type of product such as humus for composting or protein developed through yeast culture; and the use of energy developed by waste disposal, such as steam generation from incineration.

Why do tax bills always originate in the House?

The constitutional provision (all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the House of Representatives. . .) is an adaptation of the English practice. The principle involved, which had been established in England after long struggle, is that the national purse strings should be controlled by a body directly responsible to the people. So when the Constitution was formulated, as Members of the Senate were to be chosen by the several State legislatures, the initiation of revenue legislation was restricted to the House, where the Members were subject to direct election every 2 years. However, the Senate has had from the start full power to amend revenue legislation.

Last year, your office sent me a helpful booklet on child care—do you have any extra copies?

A limited number of the booklets, "Your Child from 1 to 6" are still available from my office. Just drop me a line, care of the U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Several Hurt In Week's Accidents

Several persons were injured in three of 11 accidents during the past week in various parts of the county. Injuries were apparently not serious.

Floyd D. Collins, 45, RD 3, Deer Park, was apparently only slightly injured in a mishap in Loch Lynn about 10 p. m. last Wednesday. He was traveling south on State Route 560 when he went off the right side of the road and struck a pole. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged him with operating at excess speed.

Jimmy R. Beckman, 20, RD 2, Swanton, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following an accident on a private road just off the Glendale road shortly before midnight last Thursday. The car of Annabelle Rounds Frazee was parked on the private road followed by the parked Beckman car. Beckman then started ahead and struck the Frazee car. Tfc. Broadwater investigated.

Two persons were taken to the Frostburg Community Hospital following a two-car mishap on U. S. Route 40 1.3 miles west of Piney Run road last Wednesday afternoon.

Minnie M. Winebrenner, 75, passenger in a car driven by Harry Lee Winebrenner, both of Frostburgh, and Harry Homer, 66, Wheeling, W. Va., the driver of the other car were taken to the hospital. Winebrenner was traveling west on Route 40. Homer was driving east when a third vehicle started to overtake the Winebrenner car. Homer applied his brakes, lost control of his car which crossed the center of the road and hit the Winebrenner car and a telephone pole. Tfc. D. L. Tharp made no charges.

Albert R. Messenger, Oak Street, Oakland, was going north on the driving lane of Browning Foodland parking lot about 1 p. m. Monday. Marilyn Sue Glotfelty, RD 1, Gorman, a. was coming east on the main driving lane and collided with the Messenger car. Tfc. J. E. Foley charged Messenger with failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection.

Flora H. Hardt, Arlington, Va., was traveling east on U. S. Route 50 near Gorman last Saturday about 11 a. m. Robert H. Murphy, Elk Garden, W. Va., was driving west on Route 50. Flora Harrill's car skidded on the wet roadway and the rear of the car came across the center of the road, struck the Murphy vehicle and then hit the bridge. Tpr. Foley investigated.

Milton C. Johnson, Jr., Meyersdale, Pa., sideswipped the parked car of Patsy R. Blocher, Grantsville, the night of September 20, on the Dorsey Hotel road just off U. S. Route 40 in Grantsville. Johnson continued on to his destination. Trooper Ronald C. Georg charged Johnson with failing to stop after a vehicle damage accident.

Betty Mae Cartwright, Reedsville, W. Va., was traveling south on U. S. Route 219, September 25. An unknown vehicle was stopped in the southbound lane in the process of making a left turn into Jasper Riley road from Route 219. Betty Cartwright struck the unknown vehicle in the left rear after first stopping. The unknown driver continued on without identifying self.

James W. Wilt, RD 2, Grantsville, was driving south on Bear Hill road, near Jennings, last Wednesday afternoon. As he entered a sharp right turn, he experienced brake failure. The car went off the left shoulder and hit a tree. Trooper David Miller investigated.

Francis X. McWilliams, Allentown, Pa., and Dorothy E. Davis, Salisbury, Pa., were traveling east on U. S. Route 40 just west of the Allegany County line Sunday afternoon. Dorothy Davis pulled to the extreme right and McWilliams started to pass her. Dorothy Davis then pulled back onto the lane of traffic and failing to grant the right-of-way, collided with the McWilliams car. Tfc. Tharp investigated.

Lawrence A. Minnick, Hyattsville, was driving south on State Route 495 near Shady Hollow road about 2 a. m. Sunday. The car ran off the right side of the road and came to rest on an underground culvert. The operator got out of the car and fell about 20 feet to the base of the culvert. Tfc. C. D. Skidmore made no charges.

Thomas Kelly Vance, Jr., Mt. Lake Park, was traveling south on Route 219 at Mayhew Inn road about 2 a. m. Tuesday. Mabel C. Stanton, Accident, traveling east on Mayhew Inn road, stopped, then proceeded out onto Route 219 and hit the Vance car on the right side. Tpr. Dale K. Williams investigated.

Wed Recently at Sang Run

The United Pentecostal Church, Sang Run, was the setting for the August 25th wedding of Miss Cathy Elaine DeWitt and Gregory Ward Hinebaugh. The Rev. David White, Morgantown, W. Va., officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emory DeWitt, Sang Run. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Hinebaugh, Friendsville.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of white silk organza, fashioned with a high stand-up neckline, full lantern sleeves, empire waist line, and full length A-line skirt. The tucked bodice was trimmed with bands of lace. Her bouffant mantilla of white illusion was trimmed with matching bands of Venise lace, and fell into a full chapel length. About her neck the bride wore a single pearl necklace placed on a silver heart, a gift from the groom. She carried a cascade of white daisies and baby's breath.

Maid of honor was Miss Barb Friend, Baltimore. Bridesmaids were Miss Cathy Hinebaugh and Miss Donna Hinebaugh, sisters of the groom. Miss Michele Cogley, niece of the bride, Alexandria, Va., was flower girl. All attendants wore dresses identical to that of the bride in pastel shades of pink, blue, yellow and green. Their princess style full length dresses were matched by wide brim hats with white ribbons. Each carried baskets of tinted daisies to match their gowns.

Serving as best man was Denny Backel, Alexandria. Groomsmen were Paul Rinehart, Charlestown, Md.; Luther DeWitt, Minerva, O., brother of the bride. Johnny Umbel, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer. Ushers were Rick Workman, cousin of the groom, Markleysburg, Pa., nephew of the bride.

Mother of the bride wore a turquoise and white long sleeve polyester dress with white accessories with a turquoise-tinted daisy corsage. Mother of the groom wore a pink long sleeve polyester dress with pink accessories and a pink-tinted daisy corsage.

Organist, Mrs. Lucille Sines, accompanied Mrs. Mary Mickle, who sang "The Wedding Song," and "Whither Thou Goest." Miss Lou Anne DeWitt distributed programs while Miss Terri Hinebaugh registered guests.

A reception followed at the Accident Community room. Mrs. Ruth Umbel and Mrs. Catherine Fike, aunts of the groom; Mrs. Sharon Rinehart, niece of the bride, and Mrs. Doris DeWitt, sister-in-law of the bride, served punch and cake. Mrs. Donna Lacy and Mrs. Lois Cogley registered gifts. Mrs. Irene Rodeheaver assisted with the reception.

The bride is a recent graduate of Maryland General Hospital School of Nursing. The groom is presently employed at the First National bank of Oakland. Following a trip through Virginia the couple now resides at Deep Creek Lake.

State Lottery To Have Drawing In Oakland Oct 10

Oakland will be the host of the Maryland State Lottery's twenty-first weekly drawing to be held Thursday, October 11, at 12:15 p. m. behind the Garrett National Bank on 3rd and Green Street.

The lottery's "drawingmobile"—a tractor-trailer, will be located at the rear of the bank from 10:15 a. m.

In the event of rain, the Southern High Gymnasium will host the drawing.

Southern Defeats Parsons 34 To 14

Southern High Rams finally put it together for their first victory after three losses last Friday night when they defeated Parsons Panthers 34 to 14 on the latter's gridiron.

Denny Skeweris scored three touchdowns on passes with Rick Welch running for a 52-yarder and Jeff Friend tallying on a 20-yard run.

Skeweris had TD tosses of 56 and 42 yards from quarterback Jim Mellenry and a 20-yarder from sophomore signal caller Kevin Lillel.

Parsons' touchdowns were by Wright on a 17-yard run and McVic on a 29-yard pass from Gutshall.

Welch gained 157 yards in 16 carries and Skeweris had 118 yards on three receptions for touchdowns.

Southern had previously lost games to Valley, Beall and Bishop Walsh. This Friday evening the Rams will host Terra Alta Hilltoppers on the local field.

Allegany Group Challenges Mandel On Redistricting

Two Allegany County residents filed a petition in the Court of Appeals seeking a review of legislative redistricting in the county, saying that the plan as advanced by Gov. Marvin Mandel is "illegal, unjust and contrary to law."

Filing the petition were John F. Somerville, Jr. and Robert J. Martin. Both are members of the Republican State Central committee with the former the chairman.

The plan affects both Allegany and Garrett counties. The petition contends that the plan proposed has been "deliberately organized and the election district within Allegany county arbitrarily shifted so as to afford the Democratic party an unfair opportunity to elect candidates in what previously was almost totally a Republican registration."

The differences:

The Mandel plan reduces total number of registered voters in district 1-B from 30,659 to 29,724, a loss of 935 voters, increases number of Democratic voters in district 1-B from 13,859 to 14,399, increase of 544, reduces number of Republican voters in district 1-B from 15,379 to 14,588, loss of 1,441; would transfer voting precincts in Allegany county to Garrett district 1-A which would cut the heart out of what was previously a solid Republican majority in Allegany county.

PRECHRISTIAN

Lesson for October 7, 1973

Background Scripture: Romans 2:17 - 3:31.
Devotional Reading: Galatians 2:11-21.

"Are you a Christian?" a man was asked.

"Yes sir," the man replied enthusiastically. "I was converted at the age of fourteen; I'm an elder in our church for twenty years; I tithe my income; I take my family to church and Sunday school every Sunday and I'm respected in this community."

Rev. Althouse

"Ah," said his questioner. "I'm afraid you are not a Christian; you are still pre-christian!"

On the principle of works

The questioner was not "putting down" the man's religious life. All of his activities were good and constructive, it can be presumed. It was not his activities, but his dependence upon them that caused the questioner to label him "pre-christian." The man seemed to assume that his qualification as a Christian depended primarily upon his good deeds and respectable manner of life. Because he lived a reasonably "good" life it seemed to follow that he was therefore assured of a "good" relationship with the Lord.

If any man had ever earned the futility of that approach to [illegible] was the Apostle Paul.

In his pre-christian days he had been an ardent follower of the Hebrew law. His whole life was founded upon the daily exercise of all Hebrew law's requirements. From the standpoint of the law, Paul (or Saul as he was then known) lived a very, very good life. If any man should have been assured of God's salvation, he was the man.

In time, however, he would find that, no matter how "good" he tried to be, he found that he could never be perfect in his observance of the law. In fact, nobody could: "... all men, both Jews and Greeks, are under the power of sin, as it is written: 'None is righteous, no, not one ...'" (Romans 3:9, 10).

Justified by the gift of grace

The law, Paul found, was good in that it helped a man to see what he should do and helped him to understand that he was a sinner. But the law could never save a man because it was impossible to fulfill all its demands. If man was to be saved, it would have to be by something else than the law.

Since a man can never be worthy of God's love by faithfully keeping the law, since he can never earn or win God's love by a perfect behaviour, where is his hope of salvation? Paul's answer through personal experience: "... since all have sinned and fallen short of the glory of God, they are justified by his grace as a gift, through the redemption which is in Christ Jesus" (3:23, 24).

Paul's discovery revolutionized religion: God's love is a gift; it is ours for the accepting. Unfortunately, although that's what Christianity is all about, the primacy of grace over law, many of us who call ourselves Christians still follow a religious style of life that is legalistic and, therefore, still pre-christian.

PRESCRIPTION NOW NEEDED FOR SOME VITAMINS

As of the first of this month, a new regulation was put into effect regarding the sale of some vitamin products. Other rules might possibly be forthcoming. Specifically, new supplies of those products containing heavy concentrations of Vitamin A or D now must have a prescription.

This DOES NOT mean that you cannot buy products with Vitamin A or D. We carry formulations that have smaller quantities of those vitamins. But, it is important to realize that indiscriminate use of some vitamins can be harmful.

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request informatypical of the kind asked of me tion or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were Typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks;

Please explain the procedure by which a community may acquire surplus federal property for use as a public park?

Under the Surplus Property Program, States and their political subdivisions may obtain for public park and recreation use Federal properties that are declared surplus to the needs of the Federal Government. Conveyances are made free or at virtually no cost to the recipient. Applications and information are available from the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, 1421 Cherry Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 19102.

How do you feel about reconstruction aid for North Vietnam?

I feel that such aid is morally offensive and fiscally irresponsible.

Can a veteran of World War II apply for a home guarantee loan under the G. I. Bill?

Yes, expiration dates on GI loan eligibility were removed in 1970 and eligibility now runs until you have used it. You may obtain the necessary information and forms from your nearest VA office.

Someone told me that all vitamin pills will now be sold as prescription items. Is this true?

Yes and no. Under the Food and Drug Administration's new regulations, vitamin and mineral supplements containing more than 150 percent of the "recommended daily allowance" will be labeled and sold as over-the-counter drugs beginning in 1975. However, effective this week, high-dosage supplements of Vitamins A and D may be sold only as prescription drugs because of the FDA ruling that "excessive amounts of these two vitamins are known to be toxic."

Do Presidents normally veto a lot of bills and what is a "pocket veto"?

By the Constitution the President is allowed 10 days (exclusive of Sundays) from the date of receiving a bill within which to give it his approval; if, within 10 days, Congress adjourns and so prevents the return of a bill to which the President objects, that bill does not become law. In many cases, where bills have been sent to him toward the close of a session the President has taken advantage of this provision, and has held until after adjournment measures of which he disapproved but which for some reason he did not wish to return with his objections to Congress for their action. This action is the so-called pocket veto. In recent times, President Eisenhower vetoed 181 bills, 108 of them pocket vetoes; President Kennedy vetoed 21 bills including 9 pocket vetoes; President Johnson vetoed 30 bills, including 14 pocket vetoes; and so far, President Nixon has vetoed 37 bills, including 18 pocket vetoes.

What is your position in regards to the Sixes Dam?

I oppose any expenditure by the Federal Government on Sixes Bridge Dam including any funds for advanced design and engineering as proposed by the Water Resources Subcommittee. I will continue to do all I can to see this authorization removed and I am preparing an amendment to delete any authorization for the dam if it should reach the floor of the House.

If a veteran's widow who draws death pension benefits is a patient in a nursing home and is in need of regular aid and attendance, is she eligible for an additional pension?

According to the VA, she is entitled to an additional special monthly pension under both the current law and the "old" law.

Do you see any alternatives to the All-Volunteer Army besides returning to the Selective Service system?

Personally, I would like to see universal national service as an alternative solution. In other words, all young men would serve their country for one year, choosing either the military service or a social service occupation such as teaching, hospital work or conservation work. Under this plan low military requirements would be met largely through the pool of volunteers. And during periods when the need for armed forces exceeds the volunteer supply the system would have the flexibility of a lottery to meet personnel requirements.

From The Top

It was no compliment when someone associated your author with West Virginia instead of Western Maryland but seeing Spruce nob admittedly leads one to a treasure of Nature in that state. Anticipating a leg-wearying climb, we found it just a bit disappointing that the route by car led to a stone pail of only six hundred yards along the top of elevation 4,860, the highest point in West Virginia. Ascending the knob, Oswego tea gave its red ragged charm to the roadway, while my mind ferreted out the scenes across blue shoulders of mountains clad in bluer capes.

At the top was real coolness, that of the high Appalachian country, and here was the further evidence of battling boreal winds. Coming from the east, they had so affected the spruce growing here (red spruce is this high growing type, I believe) that their only green growth was on the west a dark main stem exposed to this rough element. We saw bending, horizontal growths of spruce running along the ground like grape vines; they would have been as tall as adults if stretched vertically. Such an outcropping of blueberries you have seldom seen, waiting there so undisturbed, for the National Park Service maintains them as wild.

Standing between the Alleghenies and the Shenandoah Mountains, east and west became somewhat confused but to the Elysium of clear air and breezes, I envied not any Marylanders seeking comfort on the ocean beaches! A real woodland friend, wild bleedingheart, rewarded us with its appearance amongst the other greens.

Finding Spruce Knob was an achievement, for we tend to hurry by the sights which are most available, but now the mountain-horn had found one more pocket of Appalachia and this is splendid in a mountainous phraseology. One sign at the end of the spruce copse invited the walker to tarry among quiet nature with this true admonition: "Forest fever—the only way to cure it is to indulge it." It is very catching, from the top of West Virginia.

Sermonette
By Area Ministers

There is a sign which we see along the road from time to time which says, "Get Right With God." As I see the sign the question comes to my mind. How does one really get right with God? I think we will all agree that we need to "get right with God." But how do we do this. What is a right relationship with God? If we see God as a good friend, One who loves us completely; One who accepts us as we are; One who is interested in our welfare or in whatever is happening to us; One who wants us to become whole persons instead of frustrated and fragmented; if we see God as this kind of a friend, which I believe that He is, what kind of a relationship is a right relationship with Him?

When I asked this question of my wife she said, "Well for one thing, you must talk to Him." If we are to "get right with God" we must talk to Him every day. You cannot keep a friend without talking or communicating with him or her regularly. We must practice the art of talking to God the same as we must practice the art of talking to a good friend. We must talk to God on a daily basis. Our covenant relationship with God needs to be renewed daily in the Yokefellow groups' disciplines the first is the discipline of prayer: "to pray daily, preferably in the morning with a minimum goal of thirty minutes for the devotional period." We must be on speaking terms with God to be right with Him.

To get right with God, there must be openness or honesty with Him. We have to put it all on the line with God. There are many things in life that we can get away with, for a while at least, but this is simply not the case with God. We only fool ourselves when we think we are getting away with anything with God. The Scripture tells us that a man reaps exactly what he sows and that God is never mocked or fooled. There must be complete openness or honesty with God if we are to get right with Him or have a right relationship with Him. Since He already knows us as we really are we can be completely honest and open with Him. With God we can let down our protective guards, we can forget our pretenses, we can take off our masks and simply be who we really are and God will accept us and love us.

If we are to get right with God we must do things together. We must plan our activites and our lives with Him in mind. He must be at the center of our lives instead of our selves. We become partners with God in our homes, in our businesses and in our occupations. If we are to get right with God we must work with Him.

What we've really been talking about here in this sermonette is conversion, because this is what conversion is all about: getting right with God through His Son Jesus Christ and then staying right with Him on a daily basis.

It doesn't make any difference how long we've been Christians we are not right with God unless we talk to Him daily, unless we are open and honest with Him daily about who and what we really are, and unless we live our lives with Him at the center and work with Him daily.

Sixteen Killed On State Highways

Sixteen persons lost their lives on Maryland Highways last week according to 1st Sgt. James E. Harvey of the State Police. Five of those killed were drivers, six were passengers and five were pedestrians. At least ten of the deaths may have been prevented had seat belts been in use.

Alcohol apparently was not a contributing factor in traffic fatalities this week however, speed was involved in ten and "driver error" in twelve.

Persons killed through Sept. 30 totaled 623 compared to 688 a year ago.

Adult Program Offers Variety

In an attempt to meet the needs and wishes of the community, the Division of Community Services of Garrett Community College will offer a planned program of courses throughout the coming year.

Workshops, seminars, lectures and other offerings are being planned and scheduled for the Fall and Winter sessions. The variety of interests expressed by county residents, the seasonal demands on their time, and the rigorous winter weather necessitate programs of short duration which focus on very specific needs and interests, said Dr. Luther Shaw, college president.

Individual sessions or groups of sessions, while covering complete topics in themselves, will at the same time be part of a total program with a single theme.

Experts from the universities and colleges, consultants from various commercial enterprises as well as specialists from governmental agencies will be utilized in the programs.

Whenever feasible or desirable, sessions will be held at locations throughout the county.

Stewart P. Jackson, Director of Community Services, emphasized the importance of the input from county residents in planning and developing programs.

In later years he owned a farm near Accident. Mrs. Herring, the former Olive Callis, now 78, was a one-room school teacher before marriage. Both are members of Grace Brethren church near Accident.

Leaf Burning Is Being Restricted

It is going to be more difficult to get rid of leaves this year as the Health department warns that leaf burning is prohibited where private or public collection service is available.

Dr. William W. Pope, health officer, emphasized that smoke from burning leaves contains a high concentration of pollutants such as hydrocarbons, particulate matter and carbon monoxide.

Pollutants resulting from leaf burning can aggravate condition of persons suffering from respiratory disorders, and can cause eye and nose irritations, fever, coughing and cramps in healthy persons.

There is also risk of fires raging out of control, decreased visibility, etc. Dr. Pope suggested citizens investigate use of leaves for mulching, plowing, erosion control and compost piles. He said the Department was receiving additional support from the Department of Forests and Parks with more rangers also checking for violations of air pollution regulations.

Dr. Pope said that if collection services were not available and other means of disposing of the leaves ineffective, that they could be burned between 4 and midnight, if the fire was not closer than 200 feet to nearest building and providing that no nuisance was created.

Defying Courts . . .

"Striking Teachers Defy Court," was a startling headline appearing in a recent week's daily newspaper. Some 10,600 striking teachers in the Detroit area had been ordered to return to their work, to end a 17-day strike, but the teachers defied the court order, leaving 270,000 public school children out of the classroom.

Disobedience of court rulings is one thing foreign to teachers who should be among the first to advocate compliance of law and order and in the orderly processes of government. This is a bad example for the children to follow, to say the least. What such an attitude among teachers will have on their effectiveness as teachers of morality, business, religion, or almost any subject, is a question that may not be apparent right away, but in the long run will certainly tell.

Their professional standing has been impaired in the eyes of the public and in the eyes of their students when they apparently show no regard for law and the courts.

Accident Sewer Funding Project Runs Into Snag

Appalachian Commission Fails To Provide $318,525 For Project

Faced with an announcement that the federal government would not come up with a requested $318,52a, officials of the county and the Tri-County Council for Western Maryland will travel to Washington today to try to save the proposed water and sewer system for Accident.

Word that the requested funds would not be appropriated came last week from the Appalachian Regional Commission. The decision left the local officials stunned, since it was assumed that the money would be automatically approved.

Wayne B Hamilton, president of the Garrett County commissioners and Tri-County chairman, said that the entire problem seems to be a result of an ARC official "acting without all of the facts."

He said local officials felt confident that after today's meeting in Washington the matter would be straightened out and the funds ent loose.

The $318,525 actually represents an "overrun" in the project. Overrun is the term used by governments when they need more money for a project In this case, inflation and a redesigning of the initial plan combined to result in the deficit, Mr. Hamilton said.

The ARC has suggested that instead of discarding plans for the project if the money is not forthcoming, that Accident officials instead just scale down the project, possibly eliminating the sewer system proposal Mr Hamilton said this would not be acceptable.

He said the water and sewer systems would benefit not only Accident but all of the county. Besides serving Accident residents, the systems would convert the area into an attractive industrial site.

Mr. Hamilton said that a number of firms, including a furniture concern had indicated an interest in locating at Accident, but this can't be done without the basics of water and sewer utilities.

The project will include state Environmental Protection Agency and Farmers' Home Administration financing besides the ARC money. Mr. Hamilton said the three other fiscal sources have been approved, and it was expected that the ARC appropriation would also be okayed.

Another problem caused by the ARC's change of heart is that Accident's Mayor and Council were set to accept bids on the project Tuesday. With no funds assured, they can't follow through with bids yet.

The local delegate hoped that Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., and Rep. Goodloe E. Byron both would attend the Washington meeting. If they can't both indicated they would send staff members.

Besides Mr. Hamilton and Accident officials, others from the area who will travel to the capitol include Edward L. Heath, director of the Tri-County Council, and representatives of the town's consultants, Rummel, Klepper and Kahl; and Dan Rohrer, regional director of the ARC.

Vice President Agnew Resigns

Says His Trouble Would Take Nation's Attention From Other Problems

Vice president of the United States Spiro T. Agnew, former governor of Maryland resigned from office Wednesday, October 10.

Just prior to his resignation, he pleaded no contest to a federal income tax evasion charge and had been sentenced to a $10,000 fine and three years' unsupervised probation.

The 55-year-old vice president reading from a paper held in trembling hands, told U. S. district Judge Walter E. Hoffman his decision to quit and pleading no contest to the felony charge stating that he believed the public interest required swift disposition of the problems facing him.

He also said his lawyers had advised him that a legal battle over the allegations against him could last for years and the attending publicity would divert public attention from other problems "to the country's detriment."

Agnew admitted Wednesday to receiving payments in 1967 which were not reported on his income tax and also that he was aware of payments made to others, but denied that any payments had ever influenced his execution of the public trust as Baltimore county executive governor or vice president.

Agnew's resignation was the first since John C. Calhoun quit in December 1832 to become a South Carolina senator. President Nixon, who acknowledged his vice president's resignation with "a sense of deep personal loss" said he would consult promptly with the nation's leaders to select a successor to fill out the last three years and 3 months of Agnew's term.

Autumn Glory Kickoff Dinner Hits 335 Mark

Art Holst 2nd Appearance Holds Audience For Hour With Humor, Serious Subject

His second appearance in three years, Art Holst spoke last night to the largest gathering in the six years of its existence at the "Friends of Garrett County" kickoff dinner for the 8th annual Autumn Glory Festival at the Wisp dining room at Mcfleury. Some 335 persons were present for the dinner last evening which raised $10,700 for festival expenses, the best return of the six years.

Holst member of the National Football officiating staff, had the undivided attention of his audience for about an hour with his continuous humor mixed with seriousness. He pointed out the similarity of the Autumn Glory Festival project with that of professional football.

Art Holst

Both had a faith in God faith in a system and faith in themselves "We all fall short in some ways but we keep on in faith," he said.

Mr. Holst also compared our endeavors to the similarity of our way of life in a democracy. He expressed a deep faith in the American way of life, but pointed out that every right carried a corresponding duty and responsibility.

He stressed ability to be awake to opportunities of solving problems, and urged all to live up to their capabilities. He complimented those in the county who were working for the festival and termed the real glory of the occasion being "people who believe things can be better and who strive to make them come true." As an eleventh commandment he suggested "Thou shalt not take thyself too seriously," that in the last ten years many had not had the ability to laugh at themselves. The speaker had a storehouse of humor which he used profusely.

The audience heard brief remarks from Joe Welch, president of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club, which is sponsoring the event, Jim Simms, general manager, Darl Kolb, escort to the 1973 queen, introduced Bonnie Yommer, of Grantsville, to the gathering. Invocation and benediction were given by Rev. John A. Grant, Deer Park.

Garrett, Allegany Still Eligible To Receive Loans

Garrett and Allegany counties are valid but six Maryland counties and Baltimore city have run out of state money to make low interest mortgage loans to low and moderate income families.

The state will no longer accept applications from the seven areas under the six-month old Maryland Home Financing program. The program allocated a maximum of $200,000 for six percent mortgage loans in each of the state's jurisdictions.

Counties now without funds include Anne Arundel, Harford, Baltimore, Prince Georges, Montgomery and Washington.

The General Assembly had authorized $10 million for the program this year and thus far $5 million had been committed with another $3.3 million being processed.

The income limit for applicants is $10,069 for a family of one person. For each additional family member, $800 is added. Loans are made at the going eight percent interest rate but are actually tabulated at six percent.

Machine Wash most Plastic Dinnerware

There are two kinds of plastic used for dishes—thermosetting and thermosetting which is safe in an automatic dishwasher, since this type does not soften or change shape when heated. Actually, machine washing is preferable to hand dishwashing to prevent stain build-up.

Some thermoplastics can also be machine washed if placed on the top rack away from the heating element. Check labels when buying if you intend to put a plastic item in an automatic dishwasher.

Never use abrasives such as scouring cleansers or scouring pads on the plastic. They may scratch the surface which will then stain more quickly. There are specialty products available that help to remove coffee, tea and food stains.

Water does not sheet off plastic as readily as glass. When hand washing, use a very hot rinse. For automatic washing, a rinse aid may be helpful.

Two Injured In Route 40 Mishaps

Two persons were injured in Route 40 accidents but a three-car mix-up on the Glendale road resulted in no injuries.

Ronald Clifton Adams, 21, Takoma Park, was taken to Frostburg Community Hospital following an accident on U. S. Route 40 just west of the Old Frostburg road last Friday afternoon.

Archie R. Pritzman, West Alexander, Pa., was stopped, headed west, because of a school bus discharging passengers. Adams following, hit the Pritzman car in the rear. Trooper David Miller charged Adams with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

A three-car mix-up occurred on the Glendale road a short distance east of U. S. Route 219 about 1 p. m. Tuesday. Charlotte J. Bock, Star Route 1, Oakland, was traveling east and stopped quickly to avoid hitting a car driven by Mary Jane Legore, Annapolis, approaching from the west in the center of the road. Clifton James Callis, Jr., following the Bock car, hit it in the rear. Mary Legore then sideswiped the Callis car.

Elroy Clarence Platter, 61, Mt. Savage, was apparently only slightly injured in a two-vehicle accident on Route 40 just west of the New Germany road Saturday afternoon. Platter traveling east in a small truck on Rt. 40 and was making a left turn into a driveway and into the path of the westbound car driven by Toni Kay Watkins, Grantsville. Tfc. Robert E. Friend charged Platter with failing to yield the right-of-way when making a left hand turn.

Francis V. Bond, Parkersburg, W. Va., was traveling east on U. S. Route 50 on a wet road with foggy conditions. The operator lost control of the car which crossed the road and struck an embankment off the opposite side of the road. Tfc. Ronald Lewis investigated.

Quarantine On Plants May End

Maryland Secretary of Agriculture Young D. Hance proposes tn lift the 38-year-old quarantine aimed at white pine blister rust, once a tree scourge in Western Maryland.

The quarantine put into effect in 1935, made it difficult tn ship into Maryland currant and gooseberry plants, and caused such plants growing wild near stands of white pine to be destroyed.

White pine blister rust is a fungus disease which kills the pines, spending part of its life cycle on wild and cultivated gooseberry and currant plants.

Many Marylanders, particularly hunters, remember the miles of white strings that state forestry workers used to string out in the woods. The foresters would then walk these lines, cutting out gooseberry and currant bushes they found. It took years and thousands of dollars to eradicate the hapless plant hosts.

Anyone wishing to obtain a copy of the proposed order may contact Dr. Robert M. Altman, chief Division of Plant Industries, at his office in Symons Hall, College Park.

Homecoming And Sing

Observe Fiftieth Event

An open house was held on Sunday, September 16, in observance of the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Zimmerman, of Mt. Lake Park.

The former Beatrice Miller became the bride of Lee Zimmerman in a ceremony performed in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rathbun Loch Lynn, by Rev. Roy Davis, U. B. minister, on September 13, 1923.

They are the parents of three children, George, Hutton; Ronald, Ellicott City; and Mrs. Gay Chandler, Mt. Lake Park. They have nine grandchildren.

Approximately 125 persons were in attendance.

Meeting Of Bi-Centennial Commission Held Friday

The first meeting of the Bi-Centennial Commission of Maryland took place in Annapolis last Friday.

Talks were given by Governor Marvin Mandel and other state officials.

Attending from Garrett County were Thomas Butscher, county chairman of the BiCentennial Commission; Dr. and Mrs. Raymond O. McCullough, Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, Mr and Mrs. Paul Calderwood.

Sharpless, Friend Nuptials Are Held

Mrs. Randall Lee Sharpless was the former Miss Glenda Jean Friend, before her marriage August 11, in the Otterbein United Methodist Church, Swanton. Rev. Christopher Crawford performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Dave Wilson was organist. Mrs. Sharpless is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harland (Buss) G. Friend of Glassport, Pa. Mr. Sharpless is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sharpless, Swanton.

Miss Katherine Ann Friend was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Bonnie L. Helmick, and Sandra K. Sharpless, sister of the groom. Best man was Dave Martin, Crellin. Ushers were Clarence Friend, uncle of the bride and Joseph Wolf, brother-in-law of the groom. Flower girl was Tammy Lynn Friend, cousin of the bride, and ringbearer was Mark Authony Wolf, nephew of the groom.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. The bride wore a floor length victorian gown of silk organza over taffeta. Daisy appliques were on the stand-up collar, sleeves, detachable train and the edge of her A-line skirt. A pink satin ribbon circled the empire waist. Her 3-tier finger length veil was held by a Camelot head piece. Her only piece of jewelry was a heart-shaped locket given to her mother by her father before their marriage. The bride carried a cascade of pink carnations surrounded by white carnations with pink and white streamers. As she walked to the altar she presented her mother a long stem rose and presented the groom's mother a long stem ruse on her way back from the altar as a symbol of love and peace.

The maid of honor's gown was of chiffon over taffeta with a white bodice and aqua bottom. Aqua and white appliques were on the white bodice, empire waist, cuffs, and stand up collar. The bridesmaids' gowns were the same color as the maid of honor. Aqua and white appliques circled the empire waist. The flower girl's gown was made by the bride and was identical to those of the bridesmaids. The maid of honor and bridesmaids carried one long stem rose with fern backing tied with pink streamers.

The mother of the bride chose a pink A-line gown with a pink carnation corsage and the groom's mother chose a light blue gown with a white carnation corsage. The reception took place at the Kitzmiller Community Building, Kitzmiller. Mrs. William Evans, Buffalo, N. Y. served cake, while Mrs. Ritchie Sharpless and Mrs. Edgil Evans served punch. Barbra Friend was in charge of the guest book and Lucinda Sharpless registered guests.

For a motor trip through Md., W. Va., Virginia, and Pa., the bride chose a polyester suit consisting of a plum top and white flared pants. She wore her mother's corsage for the trip. The couple is living in their trailer in Swanton.

Pre-nuptial events included a bridal shower given by Mrs. William Kania and Miss Katherine Friend in Pennsylvania. A shower was given by Mrs. Joseph Wolf and Miss Sandra Sharpless.

May Become Eligible For Flood Insurance

The Garrett County Commissioners recently received information from the Department of Natural Resources that the county may become eligible for inclusion in the Federal Flood Insurance program.

In order for the insurance to be available the local government must apply for admission into the program. Participation enables local property owners to purchase flood insurance at federally subsidized rates enabling them to recover flood damage without the declaration of a national disaster.

The U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development has been authorized under the emergency program to provide subsidized flood insurance until December 31.

The commissioners pointed out that the protective insurance must be applied for through them.

Two Are Injured In Recent Route 495 Accidents

Recent accidents at opposite ends of State Route 495 resulted in injury to two persons.

Clarence R. Guthrie, 35, Grantsville, was taken to Meyersdale Community Hospital by the Northern Garrett County Rescue Squad following a one-vehicle mishap on Route 495 just south of Grantsville, 11 p. m., September 27.

Guthrie was driving south on Route 495 and failed to negotiate a turn. The small truck ran off the road and into a ditch. Guthrie said he was operating the truck but was found on the passenger side of the vehicle and another unknown subject was seen leaving the scene of the accident. Trooper David Miller investigated the accident.

Debra Ellen Miller, 16, Swanton, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital, Oakland, following a one-car accident on Route 495 near the Altamont area the afternoon of September 17. Debora Friend was traveling north on Route 495 when the right front tire blew out. The car went out of control, off the right shoulder recrossed the road and struck an electric pole. The operator was thrown from the car which went down an embankment and came to rest on its right side. Trooper Dale K. Williams made no charges.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

We the striking employes of Deer Park Spring Water do not agree with your opinion for denying Food Stamps, Unemployment Benefits or Welfare for those people who are on strike.

The reason we are on strike is to make a living wage so that we do not have to rely on welfare from the government. Have you ever been on a strike with no pay coming in to meet your bills? It's not an easy task. We are only on strike for what we think is a fair wage and fringe benefits to be able to exist let alone buy things that are not necessary.

Only a few of us that are on strike receive food stamps so that our children do not starve. We do not receive unemployment benefits or any other welfare.

What is better to go completely on welfare or try to raise ourselves above so that we can become self sufficient?

What little that is paid to those that are on strike is but a drop in the bucket compared to what good it does.

If everyone thought as you do we would be in a sad situation like a lot of Garrett Countians living on starvation wages. Please remember the employer can be subsidized by a lot of government programs so that they can perpetuate a strike and live off the fat of the land. Hope that we have changed your thinking just a little or at least given you something to think about.

Mrs. Velma Beckman of the Deer Park Spring Water Pickets.

P. S. Who do you think pays the taxes in to the government to pay for Food Stamps? It's people like us who spend the most of our life working to keep those people who spend their lives on welfare.

Editors note: Why doesn't your union, to whom you pay dues regularly, provide you the emergency funds you need to keep you from starving?

WHILE WE WERE ENEMIES

Lesson for October 14, 1973

Background Scripture: Romans 5:1-11
Devotional Reading: Romans 5:15-21.

A woman was pleading with her husband to change his mind and invite their estranged son to return home. The father and son had quarreled and the father ordered the son out of the house. The youth could return, he said, when he admitted he had been in error.

Rev. Althouse

The son, however, although he was willing to return home, still believed that he was right in the dispute and, therefore, refused to admit any error. The father and son were both adamant and the mother did her best to effect a reconciliation. But the father remained steadfast in his decision: there would be reconciliation only when the youth returned in penitance.

"Worthy" of reconciliation?

The father's stand is familiar to us. Many people are quite willing to forgive another when that person indicates in some way that he or she is penitent. It is as though a person must earn or be worthy of forgiveness and reconciliation. Under this approach our love is conditional upon someone's deserving it.

Once again, as we pointed out last week, this is basically a pre-christian approach to religion. The basis for love in this approach is a legalistic one. Salvation, reconciliation, the favor of God: all these are dependent upon the worth of the individual man or woman. And that "worth" is determined by certain laws, rules, and regulations.

The whole meaning of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, Paul realized, is that we must go beyond legalism and base our religion upon the grace of God. Paul must have startled the Hebrew world with his audacious observation. "While we were yet helpless, at the right time Christ died for the ungodly" (Romans 5:6). Christ's sacrifice was, not for men who because they lived by the law thought they were "good," but for those who obviously were "not good."

The meaning of grace

In other words, Jesus did not wait for the world to repent before he poured out his love: "... while we were yet sinners Christ died for us . . . while we were enemies we were reconciled to God by the death of his Son . . ." (5:8,10). Even while we are still sinning against him, Christ offers us his love. We do not have to be "good" first in order to qualify for it. We do not have to meet certain legalistic specifications to grasp it.

Actually, this is what "grace" means: the undeserved love of God." Therefore it is not a "salary" to be earned, but a gift. We are never worthy of his love, but he gives it to us if we will but receive it.

So it is to be also with our love for one another. We are called to give our love, not only to those who are worthy, but also to those who in our judgement are undeserving of so great a gift.

Jets And Steelers Win League Games

The Oakland Jets and Friendsville Steelers clinched first and second place respectively with victories Sunday in the Garrett County Youth football league.

In the first game at Northern the Steelers downed the Oakland Raiders 14 to 6. Steeler scores came on a run by Jamie Workman of 27 yards, followed by a pass from Kurt Lear to Marty Humberson for the conversion and a 54-yard run following a fake kick by Lear with Workman adding the extra point. The Raiders scored on a touchdown pass from Reggie Messenger to Ken Marks.

Jet scoring included two touchdown runs by Robert Wolfe, two touchdown passes from Fred Gregg, one to Dave Stover and one to Bill Ingram. Pat Gregg scored one TD and added two conversions. Mike Bolding scored one extra point. Final score was 33 to 0.

The Jets can become the first team in the short history of the league to win the championship without a playoff if they can defeat the Raiders in the final regular season game next Sunday on the Southern field. A Raider win or tie would force a playoff.

First game Sunday at 2 p. m., will be between the Steelers and the Colts, with the Jets-Raider game to follow. If a championship game should be needed it will be played the following Sunday on the Northern High field.

EATING BETWEEN MEALS CAN HELP PREVENT OBESITY

What a headline! Some of you will probably doubt this statement. But experiments have shown that more weight was gained in eating a given amount of food in 3 meals a day than if this same amount of food was nibbled at, all day long. Thus it was concluded that people should eat more meals at shorter intervals. This doesn't mean you can eat cake and ice cream all day. A sensible choice of foods is still needed.

Providing information on what you can do to stay healthy is of prime importance to us. Dispensing medication is our vocation, public service runs more than a close second.

Things aren't going too well

Adults see the intensity of a child's emotion—but seldom understand. Our natural tendency is to assume a child is small and his feelings are just "miniatures" of our own.

To the contrary, many childhood emotions are more intense than anything we feel . . . stronger because the child hasn't yet learned to understand and curb his feelings.

This is the ideal time to begin religious education. Then a child's understanding of himself grows with his perception of spiritual values.

Sunday morning in church is the high point in thousands of "little lives." Things that aren't going too well have a way of straightening out when you're grasping the central truth of Christianity:

JESUS LOVES ME!
This I know!

Area Parks Draw Almost Half Million

Western Maryland is becoming increasingly popular as a vacationland, it was revealed by statistics released by the Department of Natural Resources Park Service.

Nearly half a million persons vacationed in the eight state parks during June, July and August, an increase of some 55,000 over the same 1972 period.

Another indication of the growing tourist influx was the announcement of the opening of bids for construction of 55 new camping sites at the Deep Creek State park. This will double its capacity, according to Ward Ashby, park superintendent.

Low bidder on the construction was Orrie Construction company, LaVale, for $13,500. Phoenix Construction of LaVale had bid $83,850. Completion by next summer will give the park 110 sites.

Attendance at Swallow Falls state park increased 7,834 while Deep Creek attendance was up 19,087.

New Germany drew 44,618, down 3,278 from last summer, while Big Run state park attracted 24,999 or 2,021 over last summer.

At Casselman River bridge park it reported total visitors at 9,969, 2,997 fewer than last summer.

Overall, 421,837 persons visited Western Maryland parks, up 54,163 from last summer's 367,674.

Park facilities will close after October 14 but parks will remain open all year around. Fall and winter hours for parks are 8 to 6. The only winterized campsites in Western Maryland are at Swallow Falls where 30 of the total of 125 sites are equipped for winter camping.

Grantsville Creamery To Close Oct. 19

Plant Effluent Overloading Town Sewage; State Orders Changes

Country Belle's Grantsville creamery, producing cottage cheese, chip dip and sour cream for large food store chains for nearly 30 years, stops all production Friday, October 19.

Nineteen employees are without jobs following the shutdown, including plant manager James Showalter.

The decision to stop production came from Country Belle's main Pittsburgh office, faced with the problem of disposing of plant wastes.

Sewage facilities for the town, although judged sufficient for the town's present and immediately foreseeable future simply are not sufficient to dispose of the waste from the plant, which is equal to that provided by 2,400 people. Grantsville has 516 residents.

The State of Maryland, through environmental protection laws, told the town they must either stop service to Country Belle or expand their present plant. Expanding the plant would mean tripling the present sewage rate for residents.

For Country Belle, this meant spending one-half million dollars to aid the town with the sewage plant construction. Even if the bond had been passed to levy funds to enlarge, Country Belle could not give any guarantee how long they could remain in operation at the site.

Water A Problem

The creamery also required one and one-half million gallons of water monthly, half again as much as the entire town, which naturally was straining the water system to capacity.

In April, the plant began hauling part of the effluent to the former manager's farm near Grantsville, and since September had been hauling all wastes there.

The decision to shut down also

4-Day Festival Ends; 50,000 Witness Parade

Sixth Annual Event Brings Thousands To Area; Activities Well Attended

The Sixth Annual Autumn Glory Festival came to an end at Mellenry and Oakland on Sunday with an antique car show and motorcycle races, following four days of varied activities at Oakland and Accident.

Sunday's events climaxed another great weekend for the county with Saturday's crowd estimated by some at over 50,000 several thousand more than the previous year. This number has been challenged by a few people, but a survey of people lining the street along the parade route leave no doubt that Oakland was packed. Hundreds of dinners were served by various groups and the food booths of the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club sold out of seafood items. All restaurants were extremely busy.

Some eighty or more units participated in the two-hour procession on Saturday with a variety of floats, musical units, and other features.

Friday afternoon Miss Bonnie Yommer Northern High school senior, of Grantsville, was crowned Autumn Glory Queen by State Senator William A. Wilson, in the gymnasium at Northern High School, at Accident. Northern High To Be Evaluated

At the regular meeting of the Board of Education last Thursday the participation of both county high schools in the Middle Atlantic States association of Secondary Schools and colleges activities was reaffirmed, and it was revealed that Northern High school had started the self-evaluating stage under leadership of Francis E. In other action Albert R. Ringer, director of curriculum and instruction, presented reports on modified programs of study in the county schools. He also reviewed highlights of proposed revisions of State Secondary School standards. The board plans to state its position on this matter at a later meeting.

Upon recommendation of Dr. William Buser, count, superintendent, the board approved slight revisions in the schematics which should insure approval by the State Interagency committee on school construction.

Sex Barrier Is Broken In Manpower Training Program

A female has broken the sex barrier in Garrett County's Board of Education current Manpower Development Training Program being held in Grantsville. Mrs. Elma Mason of Bear Hill is a student in the auto body repair course being held in Grantsville. Twenty-five students started training in May and will complete the twenty-six week course Friday, November 23. This is a federal program which the Board of Education administers.

James Trickett reports many adults have received training and have become successfully employed. The program of auto mechanics and small engines which ended May 25, found only 5 of 25 not working after being trained. Six students completed the course early due to the individualized nature of the program.

Mrs. Mason has had job offers since local businessmen are aware of the auto body repair program. Some of the students plan on starting their own business. Students attending the auto body repair program range in age from 17 to 55 years of age.

The Mayor and Town Council of Mountain Lake Park on October 10, adopted a Town Zoning Ordinance to implement their Comprehensive Land-use Plan adopted this past July 18. Elmer H. Upole, Mayor, stated that the plan and zoning ordinance are designed to encourage predominantly residential development in the future with enough commercial development to support the town population and surrounding areas.

Lake Park is the first community under this program to adopt a comprehensive plan and zoning ordinance. Members of the Town Council are Elmer H. Upole, Mayor; Everett B. Bray, William H. Cause Of Shock Wave Thursday Still A Mystery

The cause of a shock wave heard and felt in Garrett county and the tri-state area remains a mystery.

A scientist at Penn State University said he found evidence of the tremor on an extremely sensitive recording device but he could not explain what caused it.

Dr. Shelton Alexander, a geophysics professor and director of the seismic observatory at Penn State, said the shock was "a very small short burst of high frequency energy."

The tremor and boom occurred at 8:53 p. m. Thursday and lasted about five seconds. "It definitely was not an earthquake signature," Dr. Alexander said.

The explosion shook houses in the entire area from Fairmont to Frederick.

Scientists had speculated the shock wave may have been caused by either a sonic boom from an airplane or a meteorite entering the earth's atmosphere. However, Dr. Alexander said there was no way they could pinpoint the cause.

Air Force officials in Pennsylvania and officers at the Naval Observatory in Washington said they had sighted nothing that could have caused a sonic boom or an explosion. Officials at Goddard Space Flight Center and the National Aeronautical and Space Administration said they knew nothing that could have caused the shock.

Locally, there was a false report circulating that there had been an explosion and fire at Luke mill of Westvaco.

Senate Votes To Reimburse Sewage Plant Costs In State

The Senate has voted to repay state and local governments which went ahead with construction of sewage treatment plants between 1966 and 1972 without receiving their proper share of federal assistance.

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) said the reimbursement formula agreed to by the Senate on Thursday would eventually repay Maryland $17.7 million, based on EPA data. New state figures go as high as $52.6 million.

The legislation calls for an initial repayment of $38.1 million to Maryland from funds already appropriated under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act of 1972. Reimbursement could begin as early as next year.

Senator Beall said a total of $1.9 billion has been appropriated to provide a 50 percent federal contribution for all sewage treatment projects begun during the 1966-72 period. Some regional plants could get 55 percent.

However in order to meet a revised estimate on projects eligible for reimbursement, the legislation would increase the total authorization to $2.6 billion.

Senator Beall said the legislation also authorizes the Environmental Protection Agency to extend the deadline for filing applications for reimbursement from Oct. 18 to Dec. 31.

Mild weather of the first part of the week gave way to lower, more seasonable temperatures since Tuesday, although Sunday's high was just normal. Monday night's thunder storms spilled about an inch of rain in the area.

Variable cloudy skies with morning fog through Saturday gave way to clear skies after moderate winds blew away Saturday night's rain clouds. It was clear and breezy, then, into Tuesday with the exception of Monday night's thunder storms which dumped .92 inches of rain accompanied by some hard thunder claps. Saturday night's showers deposited .11 inch of rain. Yesterday's light rain could have easily been snow with temperatures in the 30s.

Daily highs averaged 69 degrees with the highest being 72 degrees Friday and Saturday. Yesterday temperatures hung near the 40-mark and below. The normal high is 61.3 degrees. Morning lows were mostly in the 40s but 33 degrees yesterday and 29 this morning.

ON FREEDOM

Lesson for October 21, 1973

Background Scripture: Romans 6:1 through 7:25
Devotional Reading: Romans 6:5-14.

Nothing is more confusing than the word "freedom."

In the months that followed the granting of India's independence from Great Britain, thousands of Indians attempted to ride the various railways without paying fares. They had heard so much about the wonderful "freedom" that was coming to them that they assumed it meant they would be able to do whatever they wanted to do.

Rev. Althouse

A different kind of bondage

Freedom, of course, is always a relative term. No one is ever completely "free," because all of us are bounded by certain limitations. I am be "free" to choose to leap over a tall building, yet I am not really "free" to do so because of my physical limitations.

Young people often assume that when at last they have managed to move beyond the managements of their parents, they will be "free" and never more in bondage. Yet nothing is more deceptive than our freedom "to do as we please." A young man at college, away from home for the first time, may feel that he is "free at last." There will be no one to tell him what to do, when to do it, or how to do it.

In time he begins to drop from his lifestyle all those things he felt his parents forced upon him. In a short time, however, his life may be hedged in by various habits and practices which hold him in an even greater bondage. His rebellion against a now-absent authority may become a new kind of bondage. He begins to do certain things, not because he finds them all that pleasurable, but so that he can assert his independence. His lifestyle becomes determined by new compulsions more captivating than any of the restrictions ever placed upon him by his parents. He may become enslaved to his own appetites and temptations. Soon, he may find that he is no more "in charge" of his life than he was at home.

Are we free to sin?

Paul tackled another perspective of freedom when he said: "What then? Are we to sin because we are not under law but under grace?" (Romans 6:15). It is a reasonable question. If we are saved, not by our good works, but by God's grace, then are we not to conclude that we may do whatever we like without losing God's grace? If God is going to save us anyway, what's the point in trying to please him?

Paul answers: "By no means!" When we choose to put ourselves in bondage to sinful practices and habits, when we let base emotions run our lives, we have, in fact, lost our freedom. The Christian can do anything, but, because of the gift God gives him, he will not choose to do those things which he knows violate his freedom. As Paul puts it so well in another of his letters: "If we live by the Spirit, let us also walk by the Spirit" (Galatians 5:25). The highest freedom any man can know is to willingly submit himself to God's will.

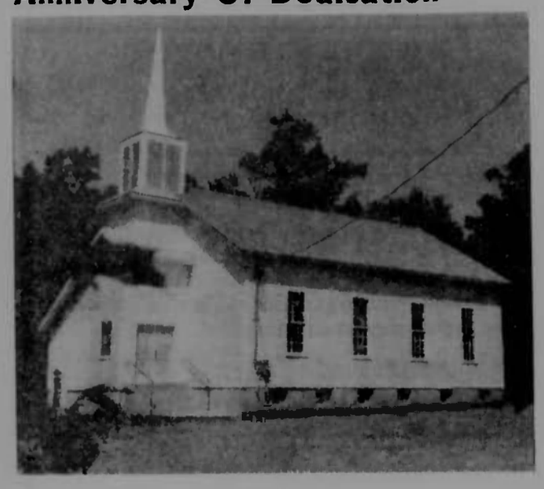
White Church Observes 100th Anniversary Of Dedication



White United Methodist Church celebrates its one hundredth anniversary this week, after it had originally been dedicated on October 16, 1873.

The church is believed to have been built in 1860, and services of a Methodist Episcopal denomination were held there for 79 years. Through action of the conference in 1939, the church became known as simply a Methodist church. In 1968, again through the conference, the name was changed to United Methodist.

Services for the coming celebration, on October 21, are to begin at 10 a. m. with church school, followed at 11 by a worship service. At 12:30, a covered dish luncheon will be served. Afternoon celebration service will begin at 2 p. m. Several former ministers have been invited to attend. Singing will also be featured during the afternoon.

The first trustees of the church were James W. White, Middleton Biggs, Elisha Harvey, Nathaniel B. Darvey II, and John G. Riley, early settlers of the area. The land was deeded for the sum of one dollar to the trustees by Davis K. Duling. The deed itself was not recorded until January 1, 1868, in Cumberland, since at that time Garrett County had not yet been formed.

Hot new source for gas.

One of the hottest new sources for natural gas is the frozen north.

America badly needs supplies of the clean gas energy available there to help solve the energy crisis.

Columbia has gone to the Arctic to get this gas:

—we're financing drilling programs in Alaska and Canada, including on the far islands of the high Arctic.

—we've gotten the rights to purchase substantial gas reserves already discovered on Alaska's North Slope. Once the Alaskan oil pipeline gets started, a natural gas line can also be built from the North Slope. We can't produce the gas until oil production is underway.

—we're participating in costly environmental and engineering studies on how to build gas lines from the frozen north to consumers in Columbia's service area.

There's much work yet to do, but gas from the far north will be coming along. Columbia Gas is working hard today to meet your energy needs tomorrow.

Natural gas pipelines from the Arctic will be built with proper regard for the area they cross. A study group in which Columbia participates has operated complex test sites and conducted lengthy field studies to examine the impact of a gas line on the land and waterways and the wildlife that inhabit them. These studies are providing the data necessary to meet growing energy needs with minimum disturbance of the environment.

COLUMBIA GAS

Gas is precious, pure energy . . . use it wisely.

Miss Niles Wed to Mr. Flater

The main chapel of the United States Naval Academy was the scene of the wedding of Miss Susan Elizabeth Niles, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Nathan Orr Niles, Wardour, Annapolis, to Mr. Jeffrey Ransom Flater, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brian Bell of Arlington, Virginia.

The double ring ceremony was performed September first by Chaplain Ira C. Starling. A reception was held at the Annapolis Hilton Inn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin de chine and Alencon lace fashioned in a princess silhouette. A stand-up collar was accented by a wide lace bib bodice. Large Balenciago sleeves completed the princess look. Her bonnet head piece was covered in matching lace with a fingertip veil. She carried an elongated crescent bouquet of white miniature carnations, stephanotis, accent of peach star flowers centered with white Japhet orchids.

The matron of honor was Mrs. Harry Rufus Wallace of San Francisco, California. With her gown of peach crepe accented with a cinnamon velvet sash she carried a crescent bouquet of peach miniature carnations, star flowers and large dried Mexican rosettes framed with deep green camellia leaves. She wore an arrangement of peach miniature carnations, star flowers and camellia leaves in her hair.

The bridesmaids were Lisa Sue Bell, Elizabeth Andrew Bell, sisters of the bridegroom, Arlington; Pamela Jean Rudy, cousin of the bride Oakland, and Jane Bishop Parker Perry, Florida. They were attired in gowns of peach crepe with forest green velvet sashes. They wore head pieces and carried bouquets designed in the same manner as the matron of honor using paler tones of the same flowers.

Best man was Morris Eugene Flater, brother of the bridegroom, Abingdon, Va. Ushers were Dr. Charles William Magee, cousin of the bridegroom, Princeton, William Louis Klinkenstein, Miami, Bruce Lance Craig, New Orleans, and James Rudy Niles brother of the bride.

The couple is residing in Arlington after a trip to Nags Head, North Carolina.

Mrs. Flater is the granddaughter of Mrs. Irvin R. Rudy, of Oakland, and the late Mr. Rudy and the late Dr. and Mrs. Harold H. Niles of Watertown, N. Y. He is a son of the late Lt. Col. Morris Eugene Flater, USMC. Mr. Flater's grandparents are Mrs. Elmer Ransom of Augusta, Georgia and the late Mr. Ransom, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Morris Flater, of Bloomfield, Indiana

Both Mr. and Mrs. Flater graduated from Tulane University in May.

Commissioners Discuss Merit System Monday

Recommendations of the Merit System board were discussed at the regular meeting of the Board of County Commissioners on Monday. The recommendations would have to be amended by the commissioners to existing rules and regulations, after review and approval, to become effective, it was pointed out.

In other business James McHenry, agricultural extension agent, carried out routine business.

David Ramsey, Community Action, spoke regarding status of the proposed rural transit system, funded mostly by the State Department of Transportation. He said Community Action was looking into further funding from Appalachian Regional commission and the Tri-County Council.

Commissioners conferred with Louis Phipps, Department of Natural Resources, about repairing the Casselman River bridge and the state's role in shared funding for a new Savage River bridge.

Commissioners met jointly with Allegany county commissioners Monday night at Penn Alps, Grantsville, to discuss regional emergency medical health services. Robert Kopsick, Health Planning Council of Appalachian Maryland, conducted the session.

Driving While Intoxicated Draws Heavy Fine

Driving while intoxicated again drew a heavy fine in District Court during the week end October 15. Three paid for not having Fuel Tax stickers.

Kanawha Richard Pike, Bradley Manor Oakland, pleaded guilty before Judge Lewis R. Jones on two counts. On the count of operating a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition, he was fined $105. For failing to drive to the right of center of the road, he was fined $15. On a third count of operating on an expired operator's license, he was found not guilty.

Last week it was stated Marl Allen Lawson was placed on probation without verdict whereas it should have stated not guilty. The error is regretted.

All others forfeited collateral.

Not having Md. Road Fuel Tax sticker: George H. Beeman, Boynton, Pa., $35; Robert L. Donaldson, Meyersdale, Pa., $35, and Jimmie Harold Holley, Catlettsburg, Ky., $30.

Delmas D. Roy, Terra Alta, W. Va., failing to display registration plates on a vehicle (truck), $15.

Burgett Wayne Thomas, Friendsville, passing in a 'no-passing' zone, $25.

Amounts shown include fine and $5 costs.

Sunday Accident Slightly Injures 2

An accident on U. S. Route 40 about a mile and three quarters west of Grantsville Sunday morning caused slight injury to the drivers of the two cars involved.

Clair Eugene Folk, 37, Grantsville, traveling west on Route 40, pulled off the traveled portion of the road and started to make a "U" turn to go east and as he did, was struck in the left side by Robert D. Warnick traveling west.

Trooper Ronald C. George investigated the mishap.

Kingwood Topples Southern, 24 to 7

Jeff Hartley completed 13 of 15 passes for 230 yards and one touchdown and ran for another score to lead Kingwood to a 21 to 7 victory over Southern High at Kingwood last Friday night.

Randy Liston scored twice in the second period on short plunges.

Southern jumped to an early lead as signal caller Jim McHenry threw a 60 yard bomb to Denny Skeweris, putting the Rams on top 7-0 with eight minutes left in the first period.

Southern's defense toughened up in the second half, allowing only one Stag score. The Stag defense shut off the Southern ground game and their constant blitzing kept the pressure on McHenry, forcing him to hurry his passes.

Southern's record is now 2-1 with this week an open date. The next game will be against Bruce high of Westernport scheduled for Friday night, October 26.

REVIVAL SERVICES

Revival services will be held at The Asher Glade Church of the Brethren, located on the Friendsville-Markleysburg road, beginning Monday, October 22 through Saturday, October 27, 1973 at 7:30 p.m. nightly. ALL EARS

You can't help loving this little pup. Maybe it's because he seems so out of proportion. If he somehow were able to flap those ears he might fly away.

Perhaps there is a little fellow in your home who is "all ears" in another sense . . . a youngster who takes in everything that's said, including some things he isn't meant to hear.

Most children are eager to listen . . . hungry to learn. That is why the early years are so important in the molding of a child's character. The things he hears, whether right or wrong, make a deep impression on his mind. They are soon reflected in his actions and words.

Wise parents take advantage of the Church's program of religious education in implanting those early impressions. They know there is no surer builder of character than religious faith.

NOW . . . while your child is eager to hear and to learn, bring him to church . . . and support the Church in its great undertaking.

Display, Movies At Local Library

Old silent movies are being shown and folk arts are on display during October at the Ruth Enlow library in Oakland.

Two Charlie Chaplin classics will be shown Saturday, October 20, at 2 p. m. The one hour program features "Easy Street," and "The Count," comedies from the silent days of Hollywood.

"Folk Arts Live Again," is the theme for the showcase display of handcrafted replicas of arts and crafts which had prominence in the daily lives of mountain ancestors. Many citizens loaned articles for the display, some from the display at the National Mall in Washington during the 1972 Festival of American Folklife. They included the loomed rag rug woven by Mrs. Orval Glotfelty, hickory hearth broom and hewn log trough by Orval Glotfelty of Bittinger; a rough oak house shingle by Lawrence Brenneman, Bittinger.

Others contributing were Mr. and Mrs. John Rembold, Mt. Lake Park, Mrs. Lawrence Sherwood, Mrs. William Sharps, Oakland; Mrs. Nellie Harsh, Crellin, Mrs. Andrew L. Mance, Mrs. Lewis R. Jones, Miss Ducy Snyder, Oakland; Gary Yoder, Grantsville; Claude Yoder, Cumberland; Mrs. Morris Beachy, Grantsville.

The handicraft theme is continued in the indoor showcase showing work by Mrs. Ellsworth Beachy and Mrs. Morris Beachy, Grantsville. The exhibit also includes craft books available from the library, all to be on display through October.

Training Ends For Parent Volunteers

A two day training session for parent volunteers was held in Oakland, on Tuesday, October 9 and Wednesday, October 10. A total of 80 parents signed up for the workshop. Parents volunteers represented almost every elementary school in the county. Ernest Spoerlein said he was well pleased with the parents' response and enthusiasm for helping in the schools.

Volunteers who have worked in the schools previously served on a panel with teachers who have had parent volunteers and answered questions parents had concerning working in a classroom. The math and reading curriculum was also discussed.

Principals of individual schools and David Miller, parent volunteer coordinator, will now work in each school to successfully expand the parent volunteer program.

Washington Area Persons Injured In Recent Mishap

Two Washington, D. C. area persons were injured in a recent accident on U. S. Route 40.

Robert W. Dickey, 26, Bladensburg, and his passenger, Brenda D. O'Brine, Greenbelt, were both treated and released from Uniontown (Pa.) Hospital following an accident on Route 40 near the Pennsylvania State line just after 11 a. m. October 6.

Dickey started to pass a string of unidentified vehicles in a dip, in a 'no passing' zone. Just as Dickey came out of the dip into a passing zone, a vehicle operated by Bonnie Lee Knotts, Shenandoah Junction, W. Va., started to pass a truck causing Dickey to go onto the left shoulder. His car then crossed back to the right shoulder, hit a tree and overturned.

The Dickey car was called a total loss. Trooper Ronald C. Georg investigated the incident.

VOLUME 97 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD. OCTOBER 25, 1973 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 35

Ecology Fallacies . . .

This ecology craze is producing some fallacies, and one of them is the mistake of forcing an industry to close its doors, throwing scores of people out of work because of a sewage problem. Industry keeps America on the move, and ways must be continued to keep it healthy.

Last week a creamery at Grantsville was forced to close because of the problem of plant waste. Not only nineteen employees were affected but dozens of others indirectly connected with the business operations. The plant began 30 years ago through efforts of Grantsville citizens interested in boosting the area economy. This is now tossed out the window, apparently without a qualm.

Strip mining is another area of concern, and federal and state agencies are aiming to make strip mining unlawful. Others are asking that miners be compelled to return the earth exactly as it was before the work began. Granted there should be restrictions, and that the strip miners should be required to fill holes left by the operation and to reseed and re-plant. But coal is needed in large quantities to keep industry alive. And everybody just could not go on welfare.

Decisions of all these health and ecology minded agencies should be tempered with common sense, and a realization of what condemnation might do to the economy. A blanket regulation effective all over the state is not always the answer.

Comditions are different in different areas. Take the restrictions on leaf burning -- the same everywhere. In this county there is a minimum of air pollution. We believe restrictions here should not necessarily be as all inclusive as around city areas. Good judgment is needed, not an all-inclusive regulation with no exceptions, that condemns practically all leaf burning. Our air is still clear and is cleared from time to time by rainfall.

The country needs employment, needs industry, and regulations that would allow them to continue, at the same time studying methods to correct or diminish our ecology problems. But let's not go off the deep end.

Two Are Slightly Injured In Southern County Accident

Four persons were slightly injured in one of three 'left-turn' accidents in the southern end of the county recently.

William Frederick Guthrie, 14, and James Dwight Gordon, 20, passengers in a car driven by Wayne Henry Collins, 18, all of Rawlings, were treated at the scene of the accident by the Southern Garrett County Rescue Squad. Collins was apparently not injured.

A pick-up driven by James R. Rollman, Mt. Lake Park, was traveling east on State Route 135 and was slowing to make a left turn. Collins failing to notice the condition in time, hit the Rollman truck in the rear. Collins then continued on across the road and hit a ditch. The accident occurred on the eastern end of Mt. Lake Park about 4 p. m. October 15. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged Collins on two counts excessive speed and operating an unsafe vehicle equipment.

Robert T. Stockley, Southgate, Mich., started from a stopped position southbound on State Route 560 to go east on U. S. Route 50 about 1 p. m. last Thursday. Harry L. Want, Grafton, W. Va., traveling west on Route 50 noticed Stockley coming towards him but was unable to avoid a collision. Tpr. Dale K. Williams charged Stockley with failing to stop before entering a highway.

Philip R. Ferguson, Jr., Deer Park, was traveling south on Boiling Spring road the afternoon of October 14 just north of Garrett road. An unknown colored car traveling north, crossed the center line of the road, forcing Ferguson to go to the right. His pick-up truck hit a guide pole, making a complete turn-over coming to rest upright on its wheels. Trooper Williams investigated the mishap.

Shirley Fae Wilt, Swanton, was stopped headed eastbound on State Route 135 preparing to make a left turn onto the Sand Flat road. Richard D. Beckman, also of Swanton, failed to notice the Wilt car stopped and hit it in the rear. The accident occurred the afternoon of October 13. Tfc. Broadwater charged Beckman with failing to reduce speed to avoid a collision.

GOP Chairman Here To Boost Party Effort

State Sen. Edward Thomas Guest of Honor At Dinner Tuesday Evening

State Senator Edward Thomas, Frederick, the Maryland Republican party's new chairman, toured Garrett and Allegany county Tuesday meeting party officials and workers.

His visit, arranged by State Senator Edward J. Mason, of Allegany county, began at Cumberland with a noon luncheon. The dinner in this county was held at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening at Point View Inn, on Deep Creek Lake.

Sen. Thomas gave an address over radio station WMSG before being the guest of honor at a dinner at the Point View Inn.

The man who headed President Nixon's re-election campaign in the state in 1972 outlined the party organization's goals for Maryland and urged Garrett residents to lay the ground work for a successful Republican election in 1974.

Another bright spot is that Garrett County's Republican organization will probably receive some campaign contributions from state and national sources.

Other tactics to be used in Garrett and the rest of the state for the 1974 campaign will be the establishment of telephone centers door to door visits, direct mail programs, management training seminars, Republican voters registration drives and a general public relations program.

Sen. Thomas indicated he would be returning quite frequently to Garrett County to aid the Republican party in whatever capacity he could be used.

The new chairman has been making pleas throughout the state for party unity and hard work in hopes of getting a larger GOP representation at all levels of government in the state.

Thomas was elevated to the state party chairmanship at a meeting of the state central committee last month in Baltimore, held to name a replacement for the outgoing chairman, Alexander Lankler. At the time some 80 to 100 conservatives walked out of the meeting following a dispute with party moderates over parliamentary rulings. The conservatives have also threatened to test the election of Sen. Thomas in court.

One-Car Wrecks Injure Two Drivers

Injuries resulted from two one-car wrecks in the southern part of the county last week. One of these and another accident occurred at Red House.

Robert Lee Crosco, 21, RD 2, Oakland, was treated and released from Garrett County Memorial Hospital following a one-car mishap on the Crellin road just east of the Dilly road about 9 p. m. October 14.

Crosco was driving west on the Crellin road when he applied his brakes prior to a turn in the roadway. His brakes failed and he went off the right side of the roadway. Tfc. G. D. Broadwater charged him with failing to keep to the right side of the road.

John William Jenkins, 45, Arlington Va. was also treated and released from the hospital following another one-car accident just east of Red House last Friday just past noon.

Jenkins was traveling west on U. S. Route 50 a few hundred feet east of U. S. Route 219. His car dropped off the right shoulder onto gravel, causing him to lose control. The car crossed to the other side, then reerossed the road and turned over on the right shoulder. Tfc. Broadwater made no charges.

Another accident at Red House a few days earlier caused no apparent injuries.

Wesley Allen Wiles, Tunnelton, W. Va., was traveling west on Route 50 the morning of October 15. Donald K. Wolfe, Jr., RD 2, Oakland, was traveling north on Route 219. Wolfe had stopped at the intersection and then pulled into the side of the Wiles car. Trooper David Miller charged Wolfe with failing to yield the right-of-way at an intersection.

Listen, Americans!

By DR. GEORGE S. BENSON
President National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

During his time in the U. S. Senate and later, when he was Vice President and finally President, Lyndon Baines Johnson was described, not without some little affection by the Washington press, as "The Wheeler Dealer." When John F. Kennedy was fatally shot in Dallas, at the low ebb of his popularity with the American public, Mr. Johnson's initial conduct in the Presidency won him some favorable reportage in the media. He pushed through the stalled Kennedy civil right legislative program to the burrahs of the eastern liberals. And then Barry Goldwater, who had become a very popular figure with the press, became a serious candidate for the Presidency. That quickly changed the Goldwater image.

This combination of events gave President Johnson a couple of Jubilee years with the press. And it was during this period that Senator John J. Williams, known as the "conscience" of the senate, exposed Bobby Baker as purveyor of the vortex in a whirlpool of scandalous operations involving the Senate, the Johnson Administration, and various Democratic political "bag men." The ramifications of this biggest scandal in American history never were tracked down. A few minor principals — and Bobby Baker served short prison terms while the full news story, which undoubtedly would have been shattering though not fatal to the American political system, never got printed or aired on tdevision news shows.

President Johnson, who, while serving as Majority Leader of the Senate, had trained and installed Bobby Baker as his right hand man — Secretary of the Democrat Majority — said of his protege before disclosure of the Baker operations: "He is one of my most trusted, most loyal and most competent friends." Baker's next best friend apparently was Donald B. Reynolds — at least for a time.

Reynolds, at the urging of Senator Williams, began, however, to "spill the beans" and name names. He said that at Baker's request he had sold President Johnson two $100,000 insurance policies, and that Johnson's most intimate White House and business associate, Walter Jenkins, had insisted that in turn he kick back $1,200 to Jenkins for advertising on Lyndon Johnson's TV station in Austin, Texas, KTBC. It didn't help Reynolds since he did no business in Texas.

Reynolds, in addition to testifying he had been "bag man" for kickbacks to the Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund in 1960, also mentioned that he had, at Baker's suggestion, bought a $58,000 stereo and delivered it to Mr. Johnson's Spring Valley home as "a gift".

In an amazing series of parallels to the Watergate developments, President Johnson ordered a Justice Department and FBI investigation, and when called upon by a Senate Committee to answer charges of withholding pertinent information in the case, Attorney General Katzenbach refused on the ground of his "executive privilege" Its investigators were said to have tapped the telephones of four Las Vegas casinos following leads of Baker's operations. Later tapes were offered for court use.

Perhaps the most titillating avenue for investigative reporting was the leads uncovered along with the "Love Nest" a few blocks from the Capitol Building, allegedly kept by Baker and his cronies. A Mrs. Ellen Rometsch, a dark German beauty married to a soldier, was alleged to have been involved with Baker in a "call girl traffic for Senators."

Sociolistic Land Controls

The fundamental question involved in the struggle over land use legislation is "Who is to determine how land will be used?"

The U. S. Senate, in passing a $1 billion land use bill requiring the states to establish controls over land use, clearly believes that bureaucratic planners should have the final say.

Historically land use, except in the case of neighborhood zoning, has been a matter for landowners to determine. Thus the land use legislation, which is now before the House of Representatives for Action, would set an historic precedent. It should move the United States a giant step in the direction of a society in which land is regarded as a public rather than a private resource.

The bill passed by the Senate would require each state to set up a decision-making body in four areas: 1) "key facilities"; 2) land use and development of regional benefit, 3) large-scale development, and 4) areas of "critical environmental concern." The vagueness of its provisions would allow state land use planners to usurp zoning authority now left to local boards. Ironically, the land use authority envisioned in the Senate bill could have the effect of shattering zoning protection for historic neighborhoods by placing the final authority in the hands of state planners with no interest in historic preservation.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), sponsor of the Senate bill, hopes the federal funds will be used to train skilled land use planners. But the public has good reason to question the wisdom, let alone the rightness, of planners actions.

The Wheeling News-Register in West Virginia noted in a recent editorial that "It is ironic that at the very time when the urban land planners and their grandiose schemes for remaking America's towns and cities are falling flat on their faces a highly dangerous move is under way to create a national land use policy which would curtail the rights of everyone and further centralize big government in Washington."

The Wall Street Journal, in describing a 450,000-word "Master Plan" for New York City, commented not long ago that government master plans "attempt to establish ambitious blueprints that conform more to vague sociological desires than to social reality."

For a quarter century, bureaucratic land use planners have been busy revamping downtown areas in American cities. They have ordained the leveling of old neighborhoods and blocks of small stores. The result, in many cases, has been the creation of grandiose costly wastelands that no one can safely enter after dark.

It should be borne in mind that few of the great cities of the world were planned as cities. The vast majority grew in a haphazard but very human fashion according to the needs and wants of the people. Today, many elite planners detest the idea of suburbs but the majority of the American people prefer the suburban way of life. It is illogical, therefore, to shift land use planning to those who don't give primacy to the views of the people.

Beyond this, there is the more serious question of rights. We have today in this country a studied effort to separate control from the ownership of property. This is partial or interim socialism. Nowhere is this effort more easily discernible than in the drive to deny propertyowners the right to determine the use of their land. Thus the propertyowners of America had better raise their voice in protest against the takeover of landowner authority envisioned in the federal land use control legislation.

The issue is now before the House where land use legislation is being considered by the Sub-committee on the Environment of the House Committee on Interior Affairs. U. S. Rep. Philip E. Ruppe of Michigan is the ranking minority member of this Subcommittee. It is to be hoped that the nation's propertyowners will speak up on the issue of land use controls. As the Wheeling News-Register said "If the planners have their way the right to own and use land will be the next freedom we are likely to lose."

Postage Stamp Honors Local Woman's Relative

One of the new postage stamps of the American Novelist series issued recently, features Willa Cather, born near Winchester, Va. who is a distant cousin of Mrs. Patricia White, Mt. Lake Park.

Later generations of the Cather family moved in different directions, Miss Cather's family emigrating to Nebraska. Mrs. White's family came into Maryland.

Miss Cather's grandmother and mother schooled her in classics and Latin. High schooling was at Red Cloud, Neb., and worked her way through the University of Nebraska by doing newspaper correspondence, graduating in 1895.

She later moved to Pittsburgh, becoming dramatic critic for the Daily Leader, and became head of the English department at Allegheny High school and writing verse, "April Twilight," in 1903. She became widely known with "8 Pioneers," in 1913 "My Antonia," "Death Comes to the Archbishop," "Shadows on the Rock" and others. Miss Cather died in 1947 at age 73 in New York City.

College Representative To Visit Schools

Southern and Northern High schools will be two of nine such schools in the Pennsylvania-Maryland area to be visited in late October by John Zook, director of admissions from Goshen college, Indiana.

He will talk with interested juniors and seniors about college programs which include a 11-week overseas study service trimester, a study and work program for students wishing to help pay their college costs.

Beall To Disclose Secret Fund Soon

A full accounting of a secret $200,000 White House fund used in the 1970 campaign of Sen. J. Glenn Beall, Jr., R-Md., will be made public "in a matter of days," Anne Arundel County State's attorney Warren B. Duckett, Jr., announced Wednesday.

Duckett said Beall had agreed to the disclosure and that he would meet with the senator's attorneys to iron out details. Beall's office declined comment on Deckett's remarks.

Earlier this week the Anne Arundel county grand jury heard a two-hour presentation on the Beall investigation but failed to return any indictment.

Duckett said he believed that election laws in effect in Maryland in 1970 did not require reporting secret contributions.

The report apparently will detail Beall's receipt of about $200,000 from a White House "front" organization, his handling of the money through a Washington committee, and disbursement of the funds in his campaign against former Sen. Joseph D. Tydings.

Grantsville Man Wins On Lottery

A Grantsville man won $1,000 on this week's State lottery.

Larry McCurdy of Grantsville found out over the weekend that he had won that amount. Mr. McCurdy had just returned to work following confinement to a hospital where he sustained the loss of a foot. Mr. McCurdy has apparently been in ill health for some time.

Air Stagnation Advisory Board

An air stagnation advisory has been issued for Maryland's three westernmost counties by the National Weather Service forecast office in Washington.

The advisory, issued primarily to alert persons with respiratory ills, covers Garrett, Allegany and Washington counties, as well as counties in Virginia that are west of the Blue Ridge mountains.

Tim Thomas, Cumberland weather observer said the air stagnation was partly responsible for the low-lying fog which had covered the area for the past few mornings. This morning, however, remained clear in the Oakland area.

The weather service reported that a high pressure ridge extending from the lower St. Lawrence valley southwestward to the Appalachians would remain about stationary and would promote poor atmospheric dispersion over the area at least until noon today.

NOTICE

The Oakland Planning Commission will conduct a hearing on Tuesday, November 6 at 8:00 p.m. in the Oakland Fire Hall to hear testimony on the Proposed Oakland Comprehensive Land Use Plan. All interested citizens are invited to attend.

Oakland Planning Commission

Few From County Apply For Handgun Permit

Statistics compiled by the state show that as of this past June only eight persons in Garrett County have applied for Maryland handgun permits.

Figures show that applications statewide totaled 8,187 for the 11-month period from the time the handgun legislation took effect, March 27, 1972 until June 1.

While handgun application activity in Western Maryland has been surprisingly slow, use of another provision in the law, "stop and frisk," has been even slower. In fact, Garrett law enforcement officers, as of June 1, had not used the provision at all.

For the period from April 1972, to March, 1973 there were 2,373 statewide cases involving an illegal possession of a deadly weapon. In Garrett County there were three cases with two guilty verdicts.

Handgun permit applications involve several steps. First the application is made under oath to state police, and a $5a nonrefundable fee is paid. After that the police investigate the applicant.

The police then can make one of three decisions: issue a permit, issue it with restriction or deny the application, based on findings of the police investigation.

If the permit is restricted or turned down, the applicant may still be given an opportunity to appeal the decision before the Handgun Permit Review Board.

Deer Park Stars Elect

Officers were elected for the year at a meeting of the Deer Park Stars 4-H club October 8 and included Ricky DeWitt, president; Patty Livengood, vice-president; Lana Gae DeWitt, secretary; Vickie Bowser, treasurer; Bobby Schmidt and Sheila Hardesty, song leaders, Billy DeWitt, reporter.

Various projects were selected by members, to work on during the year.

Summons To Greatness

"Summons to Greatness," is a collection of inspirational thoughts and practical ideas from the messages and addresses of Richard M. Nixon, president of the United States.

Here is another one of the messages.

"The seventies will be a time of new beginnings, a time of exploring both on the earth and in the heavens, a time of discovery. But the time has also come for emphasis on developing better ways of managing what we have and of completing what man's genius has begun but left unfinished.

"We see the hope of tomorrow in the youth of today. I know America's youth. I believe in them. We can be proud that they are better educated, more committed, more passionately driven by conscience than any generation in our history.

"Older Americans have much to give this country. The best thing this country can give to them is the chance to be a part of it—a chance to play a continuing role in the great American adventure. Let us make the last days the best days for all Americans.

"The blood of all peoples runs in our veins; the cultures of all peoples contribute to our culture, and to a certain extent, the hopes of all peoples are bound up with our own hopes for the continuing success of the American experiment.

"On that historic day, when the astronauts set foot on the moon, the spirit of Apollo truly swept through this world—it was a spirit of peace and brotherhood and adventure, a spirit that thrilled to the knowledge that man had dreamed the impossible, dared the impossible, and done the impossible.

"I do not offer a life of uninspiring ease. I do not call for a life of grim sacrifice. I ask you to join in a high adventure—one as rich as humanity itself, and exciting as the times we live in.

"The American dream does not come to those who fall asleep."

Lunar Phase

Tonight at 11:35 p. m., the moon passes between the earth and sun to become the New Moon. Moonset ranges from 4:52 p. m. E.D.T. today to 9:25 p. m. E.S.T. Wednesday

Strange Object

Last week, a strange reddish-orange object appeared in the east shortly after sunrise. It was and continues to be the brighest object in the sky after the moon Venus, and the sun. As it rises it loses some of its redness. The object is the planet Mars. Every two years Mars and the earth are closer together as the earth passes Mars in their race about the sun. It is during this event that we are presently viewing the red planet. Its closeness makes it appear brighter.

Visible Planets

In addition to Mars, visible among the stars of Aries, Venus, Jupiter and Saturn are seen in the night sky. Venus, the brightest planet is visible in the west for about two hours after sunset. It will be near the moon on Tuesday. Jupiter is found between Mars and Venus. The third brighest planet is among the stars of Capricornus half way across the sky at sunset. Saturn rises with the stars of Gemini about four hours after sunset.

Daylight Decreases

Today there will be fourteen minutes more daylight than there will be on Wednesday. Even though we will begin to use Eastern Standard Time on Sunday, the decrease of daylight continues at the same rate since it depends on the earth's motion in its journey around the sun. Sunrise was at 7:38 a. m. E.D.T. today followed by sunset at 6:25 p. m. E.D.T. Wednesday the sun rises at 6:45 a. m. E.S.T. and sets at 5:18 p. m. E.S.T., ten hours thirty-three minutes later.

Unicef Drive Set

The Unicef drive for funds to aid children throughout the world will be held in the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park areas on Sunday, October 28, from 2:30 to 4:30 p. m.

Persons not at home and desiring to make a contribution may send it to Mrs. Walter DeBerry, star route 1, Oakland.

Couple Will Wed

Cecil F. Snyder and Mrs. Ruth Mellott Snyder, route 2, Oakland, announce the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter Naomi, to Robert Swartzentruber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Swartzentruber, also of route 2, Oakland.

The wedding is planned for Sunday, November 4, at two o'clock, in the Dunkard Brethren church at Swallow Falls. The ceremony will be followed by a reception in Swan Meadow School basement at Gortner.

Both the wedding and reception are open to all friends and relatives.

One Pleads Guilty Of Driving While Intoxicated

One person pleaded guilty of driving while intoxicated before Judge Lewis R. Jones in District Court Tuesday and received a heavy fine, two others were placed on probation without verdict.

David Lawrence McKenzie, Finzel area, pleaded guilty of operating a motor vehicle while in an intoxicated condition (alcohol). He was fined $200 and $5 costs. McKenzie also pleaded guilty on two other counts: failing to drive to the right side of the road, fined $20, costs $5, and operating a motor vehicle in violation of restrictions (alcohol), fined $20 $5 costs. Fines on the last two were suspended.

Elizabeth L. Gravzyk, Bradley Manor, Oakland, pleaded not guilty for failing to stop after striking an unattended vehicle. She was placed on probation without verdict.

Joseph Glenn Spiker, Mellenry, pleaded not guilty of exceeding the posted speed limit, and was placed on probation without verdict.

William E. Simms, Mt. Lake Park, was charged with failing to stop after hitting an unattended vehicle. The case was dismissed as he was the wrong individual charged.

Sermonette By Area Ministers

Rev. C. R. Stouffer, Church of the Nazarene.

Settling differences

It is impossible but that offences will come. Luke 17:1.

Everyone must face some criticism if he tries to accomplish something in life. No one is immune. But the Christian must learn how to meet opposition and keep a right attitude.

It is well to remember that sometimes criticism helps us grow by bringing some flaw in our work to our attention. It may be hard to accept criticism but it often causes us to examine self. The Christian should never allow bitter feelings to get up in his heart toward anyone. We should forgive everyone at the close of every day. It does not require much religion to hold grudges and seek sympathy.

Out in Ohio, my home state, the police received a call to quell a riot in a cemetery. When the officer arrived he saw that a funeral had just been held and the family had become involved in a fight. He said it was the strangest thing he had ever seen. Women were screaming and shoving and pulling hair. He saw the blood running down a woman's face where a man had hit her. No arrests were made. But the Christian does not settle his differences with others in this manner.

We should never break our spirit with any one. To say we will never speak to a person again is not Christian. We should remember that every person is an individual like ourself. When we have learned this we have learned one of the greatest lessons of life. Everyone wants to be accepted and appreciated. Everyone enjoys a sincere thanks for a job well done. How long has it been since you showed gratitude toward someone? I invite everyone to join my compliment club. There are no dues. All you need to do to belong is to give someone a sincere compliment every day.

It is well to remember also that when we must correct someone or make a complaint there are a few rules to observe. Don't preface your complaint with "Listen, there's something I have been wanting to tell you for a long time . . ." Also it is best to voice only one complaint at a time. Try to sandwich a complaint in between two compliments. Sugar coat the pill. It will be easier to take.

Don't repeat a point once you made it. Learn to be gentle and firm. And pray about it, whether you must give a complaint or receive one. Ask for wisdom from the One Who knows all things. Keep your sense of humor. Take time to laugh once in a while. Try to make others laugh. It will help you keep sweet as you go on through life.

R20T

ANTI-VIBRATION HANDLE

Since the front and rear handles are connected and only in contact with the engine through the medium of vibration-damping rubber blocks, total protection is provided against detrimental vibrations. Each rubber block also has a built-in device which keeps the engine unit in position even if the rubber blocks should fail under extreme overloading.

HOT STARTING CONTROL

The carburetor is fitted with a hot starting control which, together with a decompression valve, makes the machine extremely easy to start, even in the case of extremely high temperature.

R21T

R21T

This model is also completely identical with the R 20 concerning the engine and other technical data, however the handles are not only devibrated — they are also heated. This is done by taking a very small part of the hottest exhaust gases through a control system to the front and rear handles. In the case of very cold weather — down to -20 degrees C (-4 degrees F) it is possible to maintain a temperature of plus 40 degrees C (plus 104 degrees F) on both handles. The heating system can be shut off entirely during the summer by closing off the regulator valves.

CHAIN LUBRICATION

The automatic chain lubrication system can be varied from 10 c.c.-minute to 30 c.c.-minute. There is also a manual oil pump.

SILENCER (MUFFLER)

The large silencer (muffler) located at the front combines an excellent silencing effect with low output loss at the same time as it satisfies the regulations of PSMA (The Power Saw Manufacturers' Association). Combination with a special spark eliminator net means that it can also satisfy regulations concerning spark elimination where necessary.

EASY TO SERVICE

If the top casing retaining screw is removed this provides full access to the machine so that the few maintenance checks necessary can be carried out.

THYRISTOR IGNITION SYSTEM

The R10T is fitted with the Partner thyristor system which has eliminated the need for contact breaker points. The entire system is based in one single unit which is completely insensitive to moisture and impurities. This new and advanced ignition system has a fixed firing point which ensures that ignition always occurs at exactly the right moment.

"This Buick is ready for Accident's Northern High School," instructs John Mullaney (left), Buick Zone Manager of the Newark office, to his service manager, John Waddell. The car was one of 130 vehicles damaged in an August flash flood in eastern New Jersey. Buick and General Motors decided to donate them to schools for auto mechanics instructional purposes rather than crush them for scrap. The contribution is part of General Motors aid to education which last year totaled $8.6 million.

A similar car was donated also to Southern High School at Oakland.

Notice!

The Mayor and Town Council of Accident, Md. will conduct a hearing on Monday, November 5, 1973, at 7:00 p.m. in the Town Fire Hall to present the proposed Zoning Ordinance for the newly annexed portion of the town. All interested citizens will be heard.

Be brave, Ronnie! It will hurt a little, but it's worth it. No matter how old we are, life requires courage. And we show our greatest courage when we are terribly afraid but fight on through the fear.

Moral courage is sometimes much harder than the physical kind, but whenever we stand up for what our God-given conscience tells us is right, regardless of sneering opposition, we win a shining victory . . . and we keep our self-respect.

It is never too late to start living courageously. If you are facing a life situation that is draining your courage, why not pray about it in church tomorrow? The Christian Gospels assure us, without a shadow of a doubt, that strength will be given us whenever we need it and as much as we need. Remember that life is not a lonely battle. God is always with you.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

BY LAWRENCE W. ALTHOUSE

BEYOND VICTORY

Lesson for October 28, 1973

Background Scripture: Romans 8
Devotional Reading: Romans 8:18-25.

It is sometimes said of the post-World War II period that America "won the war, but lost the peace." Whether or not that is true, is a matter of interpretation, but it does help to illustrate that winning battles is not all that matters. What follows the victory can be of vital importance.

Rev. Althouse

Christianity has lost many battles. Followers of Christ have been martyred, churches destroyed, mission stations obliterated; yet, in the long run, the Gospel has risen up from the ashes of defeat and prevailed. Often it has been the apparent defeat that has sowed the seeds of eventual victory. The martyrdom of a saint has often won more people to Christ than the saint could have influenced by his teaching.

More than conquerors

The supreme example, of course, is the death and resurrection of Christ himself. On that first Good Friday, his opponents won what must have seemed a decisive victory. The gloom of the disciples indicates that they too believed that it was "all over." By his resurrection, however, Jesus carried the issue beyond victory. His foes had won their greatest victory, they had conquered the Galilean, but by the power of God, Jesus emerged as "more than a conqueror."

It is this same perspective that Christians are called to adopt when they face the great destructive forces of this life. Being a follower of Jesus Christ is no guarantee that we will be victorious (in short run terms) in all the struggles and challenges of this life. Sickness, disability, physical want, pain, suffering, and death may prevail. Yet even in the midst of these traumatic experiences, we are given a hope and an assurance that points us beyond those temporary milestones.

If God is for us . . . ?

First of all, Paul reminds us that "If God is for us, who is against us?" (Romans 8:31). In other words, no opponent, no tragedy is so great as to ultimately prevail against God. If we are with him, we need not fear the eventual outcome.

Secondly, Paul asks: "Who shall separate us from the love of God?" (8:35). There is no power in this world that can take us away from our Lord against our will. "Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?" Nothing that is done to us, even by ourselves, is so terrible that it can carry us away from God's love.

"No," says Paul, "in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us" (8:38). When men have won their little victories, even their wars, God will still prevail and carry us to that level of ultimate security that is beyond both defeat and victory.

TAKE CARE ON TRICK OR TREAT

When witches ride broomsticks and your youngsters parade as goblins and ghosts we would like to offer some advice. Please tell them not to eat any of the treats they collect until they get home and you have had a chance to inspect them.

Unfortunately, every year we hear about people giving drugs or poisons to children for candy. If you do not recognize something your child has brought home destroy it at once if you are in the least bit suspicious. If candy is in liquid form be sure it is sealed in such a way that nothing could have been added.

Roth-Loughrie Nuptials Held

Before an altar decorated with white chrysanthemums and yellow gladioli Miss Frances Jane Loughrie became the bride of Gary Dale Roth son of Mr. and Mrs. Dale A. Roth of Eglon, W. Va., on Saturday, October 6, 1973. The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gay H. Loughrie of Aurora. The 4:00 p. m. ceremony was held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Aurora and was officiated by Rev. Vaughn Taylor of Elderton Pa.

Organist, Mrs. Phyllis Vandevender, accompanied Mrs. Georgia Parsons, sister of the bride, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "Our Wedding Prayer".

Escorted to the altar by her father, and given in marriage by both parents, the bride was attired in a gown of white bridal satin with a stand-up collar, an empire waist, and an A-line skirt which fell into a chapel-length train. The gown featured a panel of Alencon lace to the floor in front and to the empire waist in back. Small pearl buttons accented the front seam of the dress. The long, gathered sleeves ended in lace-covered cuffs with pearl button and loop closings. Her fingertip-length veil was held in place by a Juliet cap of satin and tiny pearls. She carried a bouquet of white mums, yellow roses, baby's breath, and touches of fall oak leaves. Her only jewelry was a pair of pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Annette Arnett was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Aimee Hanline, niece of the bride; Miss Mary Roth, sister of the groom; and Miss Janice Will. Miss Kimberly Parsons, niece of the bride, was flower girl.

All the bridal attendants were attired identically, except the maid of honor and flower girl wore apricot colored gowns, while the bridesmaids' gowns were burnt orange. The crepe gowns featured ruffles from the waist in front, over the shoulder, and ending at the waist in back. The dresses had stand-up collars, long straight sleeves, and self-tie belts in back. The skirts were slightly flared. Their wide-brimmed hats, in colors matching their gowns, had yellow mums and oak leaves surrounding the crown. Each girl wore a heart-shaped locket, gifts of the bride. They carried baskets of yellow mums, baby's breath, and oak leaves.

The groom's father served as best man. Ushers were Kirk Lantz, Bruce Rembold, and Arthur Forman. Kenneth Parsons, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Acolytes were Barry Arnold and Charles Lantz both cousins of the groom. Miss Tracey Arnold, cousin of the groom, stood at the guest book; and Dennis Loughrie, brother of the bride, distributed programs.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Loughrie wore a forest green knit dress with green and brown accessories. The groom's mother chose a beige print knit dress with brown accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow roses.

Assisting at the reception in the Church Parish hall were Mrs. Janice Hanline and Mrs. Georgia Parsons, sisters of the bride; Mrs. Sandra Hauser, sister of the groom; Miss Ann Feather, Miss Krista Harsh, Miss Jana Sisler, and Mrs. Anita Lantz.

For a short wedding trip through West Virginia the bride wore a light blue and white checked knit pantsuit with black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow and white mums and baby's breath.

The new Mrs. Roth is a 1972 graduate of Aurora High School. She attended Fairmont State College and is now employed at the Garrett National Bank in Oakland. A 1970 Aurora High School graduate, the groom attended WVU. He is employed by the Island Creek Coal Company.

The newlyweds are residing at Route 1, Aurora.

School Saving Labels To Provide Player/Recorder

Kitzmiller Elementary school is in the midst of a special collection drive aimed at obtaining needed audio-visual equipment. The program, "Labels for Education," is sponsored by the Campbell Soup company. Between now and December 8 the Kitzmiller PTA is hoping to collect enough labels to earn a cassette player recorder. The group needs 2,350 labels in order to reach the goal.

Students are saving labels and are asking the friends of the school to do likewise. Labels may be sent or mailed to Kitzmiller school at Kitzmiller.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

I have enjoyed receiving copies of the Oakland paper, since I was born and raised in Garrett County and spent half my life there. This is a good way of keeping up with what goes on in my home town.

I am, however, disturbed by some of your editorials. I am speaking of the one where you so rightly acting as a good conservative Republican, critized the strikers for being able to get food stamps. This is not new. The Republican Party is trying to stop this all over the country, but remember, that in all parts of the country, including our wonderful County of Garrett, there are people whose income is so low that they are given food stamps to have an adequate living. I might point out to you that the money for these issues come from the people who are working. The more money they make, the more is paid into taxes. They are striking to get their incomes up to a standard where they will not have to have food stamps or other types of welfare to subsidize earnings.

The second thing I noticed was when your last editorial spoke of the teachers who were on strike, defying a court order. I suppose it will be hard to tell our children that the teachers in school that are teaching them, who obey the law of the land, would defy a court order and not return to work. However, I do not feel that we would be in any better shape to tell our children that the man who occupies the highest office in the land, Mr. Richard Nixon, has done the very same thing. He has defied the judges decision; he has defied a court order; and he is pushing toward the Supreme Court for a decision. Now we all know that under Mr. Nixon's administration, he made several appointments to the Supreme Court and if this decision comes in his favor, how are we going to convince our children that in the law of the United States, we are all equal? There will always be a doubt if the Supreme Court rules with the President, as to why the ruling was given.

I feel that Garrett County is surviving on either Pensions, Social Security, Welfare, which was all backed by the Democratic Party and, of course, Labor had a big play in pushing the bills over, and let's not forget Medicare. I am sure it has been a great help to one of the most wunderful hospitals that I have ever known.

I feel that someday, the people in Garrett County will see where organized Labor has done so much and that you may also be convinced and write something sometime that would be favorable to organized Labor. Thank you very much.

Very truly yours,
Alonzo C. Sims (formerly of Kitzmiller)
Columbus, Ohio

Editor's note: I said nothing against the worthy people receiving food stamps, but my gripe was giving them to workers on strike, who ought to be getting assistance from their union to whom they pay regular dues, and it certainly isn't fair to expect others to pay taxes to prolong strikes.

Concerning defiance of court orders, I am as concerned as all other citizens of this country about some of the actions of our president, but I am still awaiting the outcome of this entire mess.

—o—

Dear Sir:

In answer to letter published Oct. 11 on Deer Park spring water pickets. A lot of truck drivers were laid off over this strike through no fault of the drivers. The only help they get from welfare is out the door. None of these drivers get any help and are out of work through no fault of theirs.

So you pickets who are receiving welfare are getting much more than you deserve. After all you pickets are the ones at fault. How you can refuse to work when it brings in the money for food. If my husband doesn't work we can't eat.

As long as this strike has been going on seems as if someone is living high on the hog and enjoying the help welfare gives them.

Had you taken what was offered and returned to work, and allowed those to return to work who wanted to work, you would not be sitting around feeling sorry for yourself. Let me say again, you who are getting welfare are getting more than you deserve. If welfare would refuse to help you pickets, which they should, it would help put the ones back to work who are willing to work and prefer to work. If welfare would refuse to help you what would you do. Before you starved to death I feel sure you pickets would be more than happy to return to work. A lot of others feel the same way I do since we thought it over.

Sincerely yours Mrs. Emilie J. Hoye.

Pleading "no contest" to tax evasion, amid other charges of malfeasance in office, Spiro Agnew resigned from the vice presidency, thus, becoming the first vice president in history to resign from office in the face of a federal felony conviction.

The "no contest" plea came as a deep shock to those of us who admired him for his courage and forthrightness to speak his mind. The events leading to his ultimate resignation, of which we are now keenly aware, are a part of history.

If a biography were now written of Mr. Agnew it would probably include the following:

"He was the son of a Greek immigrant, a man of intense pride. A former Democrat turned Republican, his advance up the political ladder began as a precinct worker to Baltimore County executive to Governor of Maryland before he was elected vice president.

"As vice president, he had a penchant for controversy, raising the ire of the news media while striking a resonant note with a large segment of middle America. A year after becoming vice president, he had become the nation's third most admired man.

"His demise was brought about by a yearning for riches beyond his legal means. He was not the first public official to commit such inexcusable crimes, and unfortunately will not be the last."

Sincerely, David R. Buckel.

I wish to thank the staff of Garrett County Memorial hospital for their efficiency in helping our son, Brett, when he cut his arm in a storm door glass while playing, especially Dr. Alvarez.

I have been to the hospital several times and have been aggravated at having to sit some time before seeing a doctor. On Monday, while sitting for Brett's check-up, I heard several remarks about "dying before you see a doctor around here." Believe me in a real emergency as we experienced, the staff of the hospital can handle it efficiently and quickly.

Our son cut the muscle and artery, had to have blood and oxygen plus intravenous feeding. Thanks to the staff again and especially Dr. Alvarez, our son will soon be back using his arm and being a boy again.

Maybe you have to sit a while to see a doctor but you get good care, and think of all the emergencies, operations, rounds to see patients in hospital the doctors have to do. They are only human too. They put in long hours, leave their families to take care of ours, and not much of a pleasure life.

The doctors, and nurses need more symphathy and understanding than they get from us, because a lot of us, when a day is over can relax, but they are always on duty or on call.

Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Friend, Friendsville.

By

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information, typical of the kind asked of me here or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks.

Recently, you introduced a bill that would establish a six-member Federal Elections Commission to oversee federal election campaign activities. Who would appoint the Commission members?

The Speaker of the House, President Pro Tempore of the Senate, and the President would each appoint two Commission members with the stipulation that no more than three members could be appointed from the same political party. The Commission would have the power of subpoena and investigation and would serve to improve the conduct and regulation of future federal election campaigns.

Can the Veterans Administration provide domiciliary care for a veteran of World War I?

Yes. VA has 16 of these facilities and interested veterans may contact their local VA office to file an application for this benefit.

Does the Environmental Protection Agency have any guidelines or suggestions on how to organize an ecology-minded citizen group?

The EPA publishes a handbook designed to stimulate environmental action by citizen groups. A copy of "Don't Leave It all to the Experts" may be obtained from Consumer Product Information, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

Who can I write to in Washington concerning a personal postal problem?

The U. S. Postal Service tells me that you can contact the Consumer Advocate at the National Headquarters, whose job it is to represent the interests of the individual consumer. The address is the Consumer Advocate, U. S. Postal Service, Washington, D. C. 20260.

I filed for Black Lung benefits with the Social Security Administration earlier this year but now I understand these benefits are being handled by the Labor Department. Do you know if I have to reapply for my benefits to the Labor Department?

No. The Social Security Administration will continue to have jurisdiction over all claims filed prior to July 1, 1973, as well as claims by surviving dependents of deceased coal miners who file before January 1, 1974. The Department of Labor will administer all new claims filed after these dates.

Has Congress taken any action on metric conversion?

No action has been taken on a large number of bills providing for conversion to the metric system in the United States. The House Science and Astronautics Subcommittee on Science, Research and Development, however, has preliminary hearings on the general proposal.

Is there a deadline for veterans to apply for VA hospital care?

There is no deadline or time limit if a veteran is eligible, needs it, and a bed is available. The Veterans' Administration informs me that beds are always available at VA hospitals for veterans with service-connected disabilities. Incidentally, Congress recently passed a bill that would reimburse veterans for medical expenses outside the VA system in cases where the VA was not able to provide the required care.

What is the status of anti-hijacking legislation?

Legislation ordering the federal government to set up transportation security forces at major national airports to prevent aircraft hijacking has been delayed by the House because of actions taken by airports themselves to beef up security forces. Last year the Department of Transportation issued emergency regulations requiring state and local governments at 531 airports to replace some 1,700 federal airport security officers at their own expense. The Senate, however, has passed a bill ordering the Department to set up a security force at the nation's major airports and authorizing $30-million for fiscal 1974-75 to fund the program. Local airports have already hired their own security forces with the cost eventually passed along to passengers through higher ticket prices.

Who can I write to in the Agriculture Department about a consumer matter?

Mrs. Nancy Steorts is the special assistant for consumer affairs on matters relating to agriculture programs. You may contact her at the Office of the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250, or phone 202-447-3165.

If I retire before 65 how much Social Security money will I lose?

The Social Security Administration tells me that you don't really lose, you just get it earlier. For instance, a worker retiring now at age 64 will get $248 for the rest of his life. He would be entitled to $266 at age 65. It would take 11 years until his monthly reductions equal the extra $18 per month he would have received.

Please send me a list of the fuel mileage tests for 1974 cars?

A listing of all 1974 cars tested by the Environmental Protection Agency in September may be obtained by writing to Fuel Economy, Office of Public Affairs, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D. C. 20460.

How much federal flood insurance coverage can I obtain for a home?

Several weeks ago the House passed legislation to increase coverage limits under the federal flood insurance program. This includes an increase on single family dwellings from $35,000 to $70,000 and on residential contents from $10,000 to $20,000. The measure is currently pending before the Senate.

Do you have any literature on vocational schools in the area?

The Officer of Consumer Affairs informs me that two free booklets are available to those interested in attending vocational schools. "The Pocket Guide to Choosing a Vocational School" and "Which Job Training Will You Choose" are available from the Federal Trade Commission, Department V, Washington, D. C. 20580.

What is the purpose of the new Federal agency called ACTION?

The agency is responsible for directing federal funded domestic volunteer programs as well as the Peace Corps.

My husband recently passed away. He was a veteran who proudly served his country and I am wondering if he is eligible for a headstone?

Yes he is. Deceased veterans are eligible for this benefit which is administered by the Army.

Do you support mandatory allocation of heating oil?

Yes. I think it was a good move and will help to avert the shortages of oil in our area and colder regions of the country. Shortages hinge on many unpredictable factors such as imports, refinery breakdowns and unusually cold weather and the decision of impose allocations will serve as a safeguard should any of these circumstances come about.

WHAT BEAUTY!"
When I look to the surrounding hills, Lord
I can't help but marvel at the grandeur
That You have painted
In all the trees of the woods
Each has its own leaf
And each its own color.
But when you put it all together.
What a Painting!"
If only we could see the human family
That way, Lord
Each person with his own distinctive
Hue and color
And yet putting them all together
Blacks and Browns
Yellow and Reds
Pinks and Tans
And Whites
What a Painting!"
All sealed and bound together in Your creative and redeeming love
Help me to see them all
As You see them, Lord

Notice to Pargas Customers
There Is An Energy Shortage!

The United States is short of LP-Gas and most other forms of energy.

To alleviate the LP-Gas shortage PARGAS offers suggestions below on how to conserve and use fuel more efficiently:

1. Don't overheat — Keep filters clean. For every degree over 70°, heating costs go up significantly.
2. Install storm windows, doors, overhead and side wall insulation. Storm windows will cut in half the heat loss through windows.
3. Fix that leaking faucet! Just one drop of hot water a second wastes about 700 gallons a year, plus the LP-gas needed to heat it.
4. Keep your clothes dryer lint filter clean, dry full loads and never overload.

To conserve LP-Gas and help reduce your gas bills have your LP-Gas appliances operating at top efficiency. Have them checked yearly by PARGAS trained servicemen.

Wage and Price Procedures

Every businessman and woman in Maryland knows the impact of the wage and price controls, now in their third year and fourth phase.

When they were established originally, they were proclaimed as "temporary" in nature. Now, however, it appears that they will be a part of our economic life for some time, affecting all segments of our economy.

The wage and price control program is administered by the Cost of Living Council, a group of men who wield enormous authority. By their actions and decisions, they can make or break a business. Their authority is largely unchecked. They are subject only to vague statutory standards and the procedures they follow often are unclear and uncertain.

Businesses that try in good faith to comply with the regulations and procedures established by the Council are finding it difficult to do so. For small businesses, particularly, the procedural requirements alone are a massive burden that is almost impossible to bear.

For example, it is estimated that at least 2000 man-hours are required just to complete a quarterly reporting form that must be submitted to the Council.

There is uncertainty in the process of applying for and receiving exceptions to wage and price controls. The Council often makes its decisions in these cases without explanation. There are inconsistencies in the standards used by the 29 Internal Revenue Service districts that perform field work for the Council.

Attorneys engaged by large companies to help understand and satisfy the wage and price control requirements report that the process is a thicket of confusion and red tape. It is that much worse for small firms that can not afford outside legal services.

To examine this situation and to determine if Congressional action is needed to clarify some of the administrative procedures of the wage and price program, I recently chaired hearings of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee on the Separation of Powers.

One thing quite clear from the hearings is that no program will retain or deserve popular support if its decisions are not arrived at by a process that is open, fair, consistent, thorough, rational, enforceable and necessary.

Even business in Maryland has an interest not only in the substance of the economic stabilization program, but also its procedural aspects. I am hopeful that the hearings and further studies of the program will help provide a meaningful basis for Congressional action when the authorization for the program again comes due.

WASHINGTON REPORT
FROM SENATOR J. GLENN
BEALL JR.

Another School Crisis

For the past month or so, school officials all aeross Maryland, and most of the nation, too, have been in a turmoil because of changes in an important federal aid to education program.

An abrupt change in Title I funding was announced just as the school year began, and many school districts were confronted with a sudden loss of money that was promised them only two months earlier.

To go back on a commitment at such a time would be very unfair, and the Senate has worked out a plan that will prevent any wholesale cuts during the current school year.

The purpose of Title I is to help local school districts pay the costs of educating disadvantaged children. In July, when Title I allotments were announced for the states, we were still computing them on the basis of 1960 census figures.

In September, as school was about to open, and long after state and local education budgets had been worked out, a new Title I formula was announced, based on 1970 census data.

The new data immediately created havoc throughout the school system.

In Maryland, for instance, 19 rural counties were faced with reductions of 40, 50, and even 60 per cent in their Title I allotments. Those losses totaled more than $1.8 million.

To put it mildly, these reductions would have a disastrous effect on the school systems, and the local school officials were quick to point out that they were not responsible for what happened.

Had they known what was coming, they could have made adjustments, and the same is true here in the Senate.

As it was, we were forced to deal with a situation that came upon us unexpectedly, and what we have done is to modify the impact of the changes.

The approach we have taken is to set a 10 per cent limit on the amount of increase or decrease in the Title I allotments.

In Maryland, then, the Senate vote means that no county will receive less than 90 per cent of last year's allotment, nor will any receive more than 110 per cent.

Since the school budgets for this year were already computed with the old data anyway, this does not work an undue hardship on any subdivision that stands to gain money, and it certainly prevents a potentially drastic cut for those that stood to lose money.

I think it is important to note that we would not have had this problem if we knew about it in advance and had time to work out a solution.

Everything I have just described has been done in the form of a continuing resolution because the regular appropriations bill has not yet been passed by Congress.

This means that we are more than three months into the new fiscal year and we are still working without a new budget—we're just sort of extending the old one.

It is little wonder that federal spending seems out of control, inasmuch as we are constantly running behind schedule in planning our programs and appropriating funds to run them.

This remains the single most important problem in Congress, and until we solve it, we cannot really expect to deal effectively with many other problems that confront us.

Application for a license to build the 1,000,000-kilowatt pumped storage hydro-electric power station in Tucker county was filed June 3, 1970 by Monongahela Power, West Penn Power and the Potomac Edison Company.

The three Allegheny Power System companies propose to create a 7,200 acre lake on the Blackwater River in Canaan Valley. Water from this lake would be pumped to a reservoir of 600 acres located 900 feet above the valley. Off-peak power from existing system generating stations would be used for this pumping.

During periods when the use of electricity is at its peak, the pumps would be used as turbines and water flowing from the upper reservoir would produce electricity.

VOLUME 97 | OAKLAND, GARRETT COUNTY, MD. NOVEMBER 1, 1973 | PER COPY 15c | NUMBER 36

Trustworthy? . . .

Dr. George S. Benson, president of the National Education program at Searcy, Arkansas, recently completed a series of articles on the state of our national security in a world being dominated more and more by the USSR. His last article was "Communists are Not Trustworthy." The series mentioned the worsening state of our military might, the latest "peace offensive" dramatized by Soviet Boss Brezhnev, and the danger of a weak America whose people and leaders believe the Russian bear had turned into a friendly kitty-cat.

Then he saw a report showing that the Russians had not changed their world goals. A press expert had reported that the official USSR Communist Party newspaper, Pravda had published "an especially important message to the international Communist movement." Essence of the message was that Brezhnev's highly advertised "peace offensive, detente, and peaceful co-existence" utterances were not to be taken seriously by the Communists and that Soviet Russia still seeks to establish world Communism with the Kremlin as its citadel. Apparently the goal of world conquest is still the basic goal of Soviet Russia. Communists are being admonished that "peace must not be permitted to go too far." The 1969 conference of world Communist parties noted that "peaceful co-existence does not mean an armistice of the socialist and bourgeois (USA) ideologies' on the contrary it presupposes intensification of the struggle of the working class and all Communist parties for the triumph of socialist ideas."

Let the United States and its people remain on guard.

Await Ruling On Strip Mine Ban

Within the next month Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill in the circuit court, is expected to file an opinon which will rule on the constitutionality of Maryland's law banning strip mining on state lands.

Evidence in the equity case which was filed last summer by the Georges Creek Coal and Land Co. and the Buffalo Coal company, was heard last Thursday and Friday by Judge Hamill. Judge Hamill took the matter under advisement Friday afternoon.

After the stenographic record of the trial is compiled, opposing attorneys are expected to file briefs in the case. A decision is not anticipated until near the end of November.

The two companies filed the action to retain their rights to strip mine about 5,700 acres of Savage River state forest.

Attorneys for the companies contend that even if the bill introduced by State Senator Julian L. Lapides Baltimore city Democrat, is declared constitutional, they should be compensated for the mineral rights they hold. The Lapides prohibition of strip mining on state land became effective July 1.

Attorneys for the coal companies are William Walsh Cumberland, Stephen R. Pagenhardt, Oakland. The state was represented by Henry Lord, deputy attorney general; and Warner Rich, assistant attorney general assigned to the Department of Natural Resources.

Witnesses called by the state included Dr. Kenneth N. Weaver, director Maryland Geological Survey; James Cotfritz, geologist with the state and Henry Buckley, director, Maryland Bureau of Mines.

Called by the coal company were Cary DelSignore, president Buffalo Coal Co.; George Bortz, president, Georges Creek Coal and Land company; Frank Cachar, Bellaire, O., a mining expert; and Fred Thayer attorney, Oakland.

National Honors Awarded Northern Future Farmers

Northern Garrett Future Farmers received national recognition and a bronze plaque at the National FFA Convention in Kansas City for their project "Charity Begins At Home." The project was submitted as part of the National FFA Program of Building Our American Communities sponsored by the Eli Lilly Foundation and Farmers Home Administration and had won the Area and one of the State Awards last summer.

In developing a project FFA members had considered cleaning roadsides, picking trash or ecology and environmental projects. They finally settled on a theme of "Charity Begins At Home" and decided to put their energy and time on their own Agriculture Program at Northern and improve their own facilities and abilities to produce animal and plant projects that would benefit both individual members and the club as a whole.

The project began with the board of education providing twenty seven cubic yards of concrete for a floor in the school barn. Members poured the floor.

Parade Turnout Is Good, Despite Rain

Despite rain and chilly temperatures, nearly the usual number of goblins, ghosts and other assorted funnily-dressed people participated in the annual Halloween parade sponsored by the Oakland-Mt. Lake Park Lions club Wednesday evening.

All 85 prizes displayed in the window of Sears Catalog store were given out to winners in the different parade categories.

Paul Thomas, Mt. Lake Park, was the winner of a 12-inch portable T.V. given away by the Lions club following the parade.

Debbie Hinebaugh, Star Route, Oakland, and Megan Jean Heimendinger, Route 1, Oakland, each were awarded a $25 savings bond.

Cakes scheduled to be given away in the cake walk were auctioned off, since the rain has washed away the white-wash circle on Second Street.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir

I think it is time someone informed all small businessmen of the secret and deadly Occupational Safety and Health Act OSHA

OSHA has powers of all three branches of our Government combined They write their own laws without our approval or approval of Congress They investigate and prosecute and then act as judge and jury with their review board and sentence you to a fine or a jail sentence or both They even have authority to fine you up to 50 percent more on each citation for an unfriendly or uncooperative attitude on your part

I have personally been interviewed by Local OSHA compliance officers During our conversation I asked them why they could violate the 4th and 5th amendments and they told me "Because we are the federal government" Our constitution limits the power of government but not according to OSHA

OSHA claims to be interested in safety and health of the working man This sounds good but it is an untruth All federal and state employers regardless of amount of employees they have are completely exempt from all OSHA laws while all private employers even those with one employee has to comply to every one of OSHA thousand regulations

In the Pittsburgh office of OSHA is a large sign that says Think Outdoor It doesn't matter too anything about safety

The Tri County Nix on OSHA committee will show two films Friday evening Nov 2 at 8 o'clock in the community room of the First National Bank of Oakland Tony Cavalcanti Philadelphia will give a presentation and answer questions There is no admission I feel that all businessmen should attend

Dear Sir

I read with interest your editorial "Ecology Fallacies" printed in the October 25th issue You discussed water pollution strip mining and leaf burning The tone of the editorial appeared to condemn the regulatory agencies which enforce laws approved by all of us through our legislators Laws which are meant to protect each of us from the unthinking and selfish acts of others

Put yourself in the place of those living along the Casselman River between the town of Grantsville and Salisbury in Salisbury and on to Meyersdale You know well the attraction of children for water Should they be subjected to the disease carrying sewage from Grantsville or any other source"

The jobs mentioned are the prime responsibility of the community and the business The Oakland Mt Lake Park area is going an extra mile to gain industry which I am sure cooperated with the local citizenry Surely if the business and community desired to continue their relationship the matter of sewage could have been resolved in a manner which would have protected the local residents

Obviously cost is necessary however our enforcement agency is often pushed by the mine operator to the point at which it becomes necessary to enforce the most stringent penalty to protect the interests of people More research is needed in the area to determine the best methods of mine acid control and a way to mine a mountain side without destroying the valley below or the mountain above Until that time cooperation is necessary to obtain the best interests of both parties

Burning leaves seems to be just a seasonal part of our heritage and it's true that we enjoy cleaner air than many of our neighbors Have you ever noticed the odor on the cool wind Some say that is the smell of money Every particle put into the air becomes a potential hazard to our neighbor as they add up to the possibility of another tragedy such as the one at Donora Pa 25 years ago Do you want to be even partly responsible for someone's death? Air pollution strikes the older folks those with respiratory ailments and the very young Garrett County has an air pollution problem One has only to climb a forest lookout tower or fly in an airplane to see the haze of air pollution above us most of it is passed to us from elsewhere Why should we add to it before it leaves us to make it a more efficient killer

We often forget in our efforts to cut costs and save time that everything we do affects someone else Our forefathers did not realize that the effects of their changes the land would create problems to the generations There is no excuse for us to do the same thing for we know better and can be not only our brothers keeper but our children's and our grandchildren as well If we don't know how we can find out how to do anything including the maintenance of our economy and our environment simultaneously Until that time and even after since people are people we will need the protection of our hard working dedicated regulatory and enforcement agencies

Sincerely yours Paul S. Frank Jr.

Federal Grants are to me, words which mean more taxes This time we are getting a FREE $138 110 to take 60 pre-school children out of their homes where training should be for the first six years. This money isn't going to be split $2,300 to each child no it won't be spent directly on each child It'll be spent mostly on Administration, busing and organizing for one year' What a way to blow $138,440.

The Community Action is at it again. When one Federal project fails they get another GRANT (our taxes) and go spend it on these idealistic projects. Did you ever consider that much of their time is spent on finding out how to get more FEDERAL Grants! Yes we pay their salaries expenses and they go butter some politician who sends more money. The Community Action is another one of the larger frauds we don't need unprecedented in commission history in that he had received prior appointments from President Kennedy in 1962 and President Johnson in 1965.

feasibility of using school bus stop signs at dangerous school bus stops on highways.

James McHenry served as master of ceremonies and special music was provided by The Gospel Strings. There were also brief remarks by T. Allen Stradley, president, Maryland Farm Bureau, Joyce Bishoff, president of the women's committee, Nevin Umbel, president of County Young Farmers, and by the retiring president, Rev. Charles Teets provided the invocation.

Mr. Wentzel who maintains a second home at Bear Creek, told the local farm people that "Farmers need some government control." He pointed out the problem for farmers had always been production—not too little but too much. He termed Secretary of Agriculture Butz as "the best we had ever worked with."

He believed production should not be controlled by holding land out of production but controlled only by the demand in the market place.

What the government is doing to help keep prices up is finding new markets in foreign countries for farm products he said.

Mr. Wentzel cited the Russian grain deal as one where the government miscalculated the demand and Russia bought almost twice as much grain at a fixed price as this country had anticipated thus causing grain prices to rise at home. Many sellers felt they would have been better off without the grain deal but many would not have sold their crop at all.

Mr. Wentzel also touched on the problem of mining versus ecology. He stated that there is enough coal in the U. S. to last 500 years but it can't be dug out because it distrupts the wilderness areas of the country. "What is needed in this country is people who can think, talk and act rationally about both problems and seek the best solution with the least harm to both," he concluded.

Missing Youth Found

A search for a missing 13-year old Finzel boy came to an end Sunday evening about 8:30 when he was picked up by police in the area around Meyersdale, Pa.

The search began when the boy disappeared after a family argument over his wrecking of a minibike.

State Police directed the search which included volunteer firemen from Frostburg, Eastern Garrett County, Bowling Green, Claysville, Cresaptown and LaVale. When picked up the boy would not talk but was finally identified when members of the family met Pennsylvania authorities at the Mason-Dixon line.

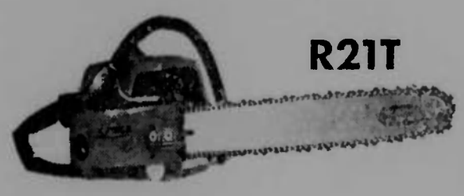
R20T



R21T

ANTI-VIBRATION HANDLE

Since the front and rear handles are connected and only in contact with the engine through the medium of vibration-damping rubber blocks, total protection is provided against detrimental vibrations. Each rubber block also has a built-in device which keeps the engine unit in position even if the rubber blocks should fail under extreme overloading.

HOT STARTING CONTROL

The carburetor is fitted with a hot starting control which, together with a decompression valve, makes the machine extremely easy to start, even in the case of extremely high temperature.

R21T

This model is also completely identical with the R20 concerning the engine and other technical data, however the handles are not only devibrated — they are also heated. This is done by taking a very small part of the hottest exhaust gases through a control system to the front and rear handles. In the case of very cold weather — down to -20 degrees C (-4 degrees F) it is possible to maintain a temperature of plus 40 degrees C (plus 104 degrees F) on both handles. The heating system can be shut off entirely during the summer by closing off the regulator valves.

CHAIN LUBRICATION

The automatic chain lubrication system can be varied from 10 c.c.-minute to 30 c.c.-minute. There is also a manual oil pump.

SILENCER (MUFFLER)

The large silencer (muffler) located at the front combines an excellent silencing effect with low output loss at the same time as it satisfies the regulations of PSMA (The Power Saw Manufacturers' Association). Combination with a special spark eliminator net means that it can also satisfy regulations concerning spark elimination where necessary.

R35

EASY TO SERVICE

If the top casing retaining screw is removed this provides full access to the machine so that the few maintenance checks necessary can be carried out.

THYRISTOR IGNITION SYSTEM

The R40T is fitted with the Partner thyristor system which has eliminated the need for contact breaker points. The entire system is based in one single unit which is completely insensitive to moisture and impurities. This new and advanced ignition system has a fixed firing point which ensures that ignition always occurs at exactly the right moment.

Telephone Charges Are Increasing

The Maryland Public Service commission last Friday granted a request by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company for an immediate increase in installation rates for residential and business phones.

Under the new schedule residential installation rates will be increased from $11 to $20 with the rates for business phones jumping from $22 to $30.

The commission also approved:

A new charge of 75 cents for a phone number that can only be given out by an operator and a $1 charge for numbers that are neither listed nor can be given out;

A $25 charge for maintenance visits on residential or business phones;

A $5 charge to move a telephone within a building or to change the phone's color, style or capacity;

A $10 charge for "customer-initiated" order changes, usually for a change in the type of phone service.

Explains Charge

The $25 maintenance charge was causing some confusion to customers of the company and an explanation was given by Richard Dayton, commercial manager for the Cumberland district.

He explained the new charge only pertained to customers who own their equipment. If repair is needed on that equipment the customer will be charged for the visit. When the service and equipment are supplied entirely by the telephone company there is no charge for repairs. Customers owning their own equipment will also not be billed if the fault is in the hook-up or wiring that belongs to the phone company.

FOR LENGTHY SERVICE AS SECRETARY—Merrill Wilburn, left, has been secretary of the Garrett County Farm Bureau for twenty-five years, and at the annual dinner meeting last Thursday night at Southern High School, Oakland, Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn were presented with a wall clock in recognition for his long years of faithful service to the bureau. Presenting the award was Gary Fratz, right, retiring president of the organization.

John Martin Freed From Springfield

John Herbert Martin, 60, formerly of Frostburg, has been conditionally released from Springfield State hospital, Sykesville, on five conditions set forth by Chief Judge Stuart F. Hamill, Jr., Oakland, in an order received last week in Allegany county circuit court.

Martin, former editor of the People's Guardian, was found not guilty last March 19, by reason of insanity on charges of assault with intent to murder his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Martin, and Gerhard Thiele, a printer for the weekly paper.

The five conditions: Martin must not return to Allegany county to reside, must seek and obtain suitable employment at the earliest possible date, must become associated with the Regional Council of Alcoholism as a volunteer assistant in the Alcoholics Anonymous program, must receive follow up care by a psychiatrist, and must stay away from his wife and not establish any contact with her directly or indirectly.

Judge Hamill signed the Martin order after receiving a letter from Dr. Herman Reiner, director of forensic psychiatry at Springfield. The report indicated the staff felt Martin's mental condition was in such a state of partial remission that he would no longer be dangerous to himself or to the safety of the person or property of others if he were given a one-year conditional release from the hospital.

Although Judge Hamill agreed to the conditional release he did not approve Dr. Reiner's plan. The psychiatrist had indicated Martin would reside with his daughter in Frostburg and would start work as a parking lot attendant for a Cumberland firm and that Martin would receive follow up care by a Cumberland psychiatrist.

Martin shot both his wife and Mr. Thiele with a 45 calibre pistol about 11 a. m., September 27, 1972.

A squabble at the European Security Conference made it clear that East-West differences are not easily erased.

Let The Buyer Beware

Manhattan Island is a case in point. Bought from the Indians for beads, the problem is now ours.

Its poverty and wealth, its shame and glory, its tragedy and gaiety—all are the buyer's responsibility. So we possess this great city—with no one to take its problems off our hands.

If we had it to do over, wouldn't we build our cities with more respect for spiritual values . . . more concern for each other . . . more attention to the blueprints of the Architect of life?

That's what usually happens to man. He tries his own way first.

On Manhattan Island, as in every village and city, churches have their doors open to searching souls. Now that we've tried our own way and lived with the results . . . isn't it time to try His?

"DOING YOUR OWN THING"

Lesson for November 4, 1973

Background Scripture: Romans 12:1-13; I Corinthians 12:1 through 13:13. Devotional Reading: I Thessalonians 5:12-22.

Somebody has said that "This is the era of 'Every man for himself.'"

It is true that there is a great emphasis today upon discovering and developing our own self. Individuality is greatly honored, if not greatly practiced. We are encouraged to "forget what others say and do your own thing."

Rev. Althouse

Conforming and transforming

Paul supplies a good text for that thesis: "Do not be conformed to this world but be transformed by the renewal of your mind . . ." (Romans 12:2). We can either let the world put its mark upon us, or we may determine to make our mark upon the world.

But isn't it audacious to think of putting your mark upon the world? No, says Paul, because that mark is distinctively you, is God's gift within you. It is his image appearing in you and you must never allow the world to blur the divine image, to obscure its features. Our individuality is our most precious heritage from God.

We are different. Paul points out, and we all have different "things" to do. In the early church there were a diversity of gifts: prophecy, service, teaching, exhortation, etc. Each person is differently and individually endowed and does not belong in any kind of conforming mould.

At the same time, though we are diverse in what we can contribute, we are one in that we all have something we can give and which is needed by our fellow Christians. "Doing our own thing" is intended to enrich, not only our own self-estimatinn, but the lives of others as well.

A living sacrifice

To some people, "Doing your own thing" means carving out a personal existance quite unrelated to other people. That, however, is not what Paul is speaking of. For one reason, "your own thing" is not just yours; it came from God, belongs to him. For another, regardless of the magnitude of "our own thing," we still need what others can give to us. "Our own thing" by itself is incomplete, inadequate. What others have, I need; what I have, someone else needs.

Our freedom means that we do not have to conform to other people. Yet, Paul calls us to voluntarily (not under compulsion) dedicate our gifts, our talents to God as an offering. We do not have to do so in order to win his love, but having been given his love as a gift of grace, we may in gratitude voluntarily put ourselves at his disposal.

Thus, we will "do our own thing," not to assert our independence, or to live unto ourselves alone, but as a thank-offering to God who gave us our gifts in the first place that we might serve one another.

Taurid Meteor Shower

Fifteen meteors per hour may be seen on Sunday morning at the maximum of this meteor shower. That is twice the number of meteors normally observed. These meteors will collide with the earth at a velocity of 28 kilometers per second (17 miles per hour).

Venus, Mars, Jupiter and Saturn are visible during the week. Venus sets within two and one-half hours of the sun. It is among the stars of Sagittarius. Mars is among the stars of Pisces. It sets an hour before the sun rises. Jupiter is to the lower right of the moon on Friday night. In Capricornus it sets about five hours after the sun sets. Saturn rises an hour after Venus sets. It is among the stars of Gemini.

Brightest Objects

An hour after sunset on Tuesday the five brightest objects in the sky are: Venus low in the Southwest; Mars low in the in the sky are: Venus, low in East; Jupiter, in the South; the star Vega, high in the West; and the star Capella, low in the Northeast.

Wednesday the sun will rise seven minutes later. It will set at 5:10 p. m., seven minutes earlier than it will set this evening.

To Observe 60th Event

Friends and family are honoring Mr. and Mrs. George O. Robinson, 221 Union Street, Cumberland, with a surprise card shower for their 60th Wedding Anniversary.

They were married Nov. 12th 1913 by the Rev. Joseph Dawson, Methodist Church at Cumberland. Mrs. (Mary) Robinson is the daughter of the late Ada and James Carey of Longstretch, this county. Mr. Robinson is the son of the late Myra and Jess Robinson, who was born and raised in the Avilton area, near Savage River bridge. Mr. Robinson is a retired carpenter. Mrs. Robinson has always been community minded and has always been able to take care of her home. The couple has no children. Mrs. Robinson has a sister, Mrs. Hazel Meese and a brother Allen Carey both living in this County.

The Happiest Place

A snowy walk in heady air, to the top of Negro Mountain, is not to be compared with other outdoor adventures. It is too serene. Little else speaks to you except a rabbit track or deer print in the snow, and infrequently, a hunter's boot marks. Trudging through snow filtered by the trees, it is easy to visualize the drifts encountered by the stage and wagon drivers on the old National Pike.

Off to the west lies a huge mass of granite boulders, which have coverings reminding one of the lines of an old hymn, "like a gray friar cowled in lichens and moss." I once told someone that in summer the lichens are as large as elephants' ears, and he doubted me. But they are. The thickets grow around them, and they look forbidding, but a trail does take you by the rocks.

Negro Mountain was a frontier landmark in the days of French and British claims to North America. According to one researcher, Frederick M. Knorr, Michael Cresap, the mountain man, was practically the law west of Hagerstown. In his conflicts with the half-Indian, John Logan he used his Negro slave as a fellow soldier; they fought back to back in the contemporary fashion. When the slave died, Cresap christened the mountain Negro as a remembrance.

In the early days of the National Road there were three taverns on the eastern side of the mountain. At the foot, a long frame building was kept as a tavern from 1836 by Thomas Thistle. Mrs. Haldeman, by 1840, had a tavern just one and one-half miles on west while Dennis Hoblitzel had a business near the summit. The latter was later a stop for hog drovers, kept by William Sheets. One waggoner wrote that 36 horse teams and one thousand hogs were there on the night he spent at this Negro Mountain refuge. Taverns and wagon stands were necessarily close to each other, as huge drifts of snow made stops necessary for the many heavy wagons with six-horse teams.

The bench mark of the Geological Survey establishes the highest elevation of the mountain as 3075 feet. Ascending to the top of the fire tower, where an expansive deciduous forest and the blue gem of Lake Louise can be surveyed, a hiker feels himself a scout like Cresap, able to see lower lands all around and sense the exhilaration of the climb to the happiest place.

OPEN LINE

By
Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

This regular column serves as another vehicle to keep in touch with all segments of my constituency. It is an open invitation for you to question me on issues, let me assist you with your problems, request information or comment on whatever happens to be on your mind. Letters should be sent to me, c o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515. While space is obviously limited for printing all replies, I shall make every effort to answer each person who contacts me.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks;

Is it true that auto makers are required to post gas mileage data for all new cars?

The program is voluntary but the Environmental Protection Agency tells me that auto manufacturers, accounting for more than 95 percent of U. S. auto sales have agreed to participate in the program and to post gas mileage data stickers on new car windows.

I received a VA pension check made out to my husband who died last month. Do I return the check to VA?

Yes, you must return the check. If you are eligible for a widows pension, your first check from the Veterans Administration will be issued at your husband's rate of payment, if his rate was greater than yours. Thereafter, you will receive checks at widow's pension rates.

Would you please publish a suggestion list for consumers on ways to conserve energy at home this winter?

The Citizen's Advisory Committee on Environmental Quality suggests you lower the thermostat a few degrees install storm windows, close the draperies at night, keep the fireplace damper closed, don't heat empty rooms, keep your furnace in good condition, fix leaky faucets and prevent drafts from open windows and attic doors.

Does the U. S. impose any kind of immigration quotas?

Last month the House voted to extend to Western Hemisphere nations the 20,000-per-country ceiling which currently applies to Eastern Hemisphere countries. Priority would be given to persons wanting to reunite with other members of their families and to persons with skills needed in the United States. The legislation stopped short of establishing one ceiling for both hemispheres by continuing the maximum allowed under existing law of 170,000 visas annually for the Eastern Hemisphere and 120,000 for the Western Hemisphere.

What are the functions of the House Rules Committee?

This committee considers bills that some other committee has reported. Most of its work is to decide whether or not to grant special consideration for bills which otherwise might be long delayed on the various calendars of the House. When the Rules Committee reports a special rule to the House, it is usually adopted and the bill to which it refers is considered under the provisions of that rule.

Commuter Car-Pools

Maryland, like most other states with heavy population concentrations in urban areas, is experiencing problems of energy shortage, air pollution, traffic congestion and overuse of land for highways and parking facilities.

We have a highway system of which we can be proud. But when we sit for what seems like hours in rush-hour traffic, we realize that the roads simply can not handle all the vehicles we put on them.

Most of those vehicles are passenger cars. Statistical studies have shown that there are fewer than 1½ persons riding in each car. If we could reduce the number of vehicles by increasing the number of riders in each to 2 persons, 20 percent of the traffic could be removed during commuter hours.

Furthermore, if we were simply to double the occupancy rate in commuter vehicles, we would cut in half the number of vehicles on the highways during commuter hours. In terms of our energy shortage, we could save an estimated 200,000 barrels of oil a day by increasing the number of riders by one person per vehicle.

These are worthwhile goals. They are the basis of legislation I am cosponsoring in the Senate to study the feasibility of establishing commuter car-pools in a coordinated, comprehensive manner. The measure was introduced by Sen. Pete V. Domenici, of New Mexico.

Specifically, the legislation would establish a modest program of comprehensive demonstration projects by the Department of Transportation of a small number of the best projects proposed by states and municipalities.

There have been a number of less comprehensive projects and studies that have tried to measure the benefits of increased car-pooling. The program called for in the new legislation would provide not only for selected demonstration projects across the country, utilizing all the knowledge gained to this point, but also would require a thorough measurement of the impact of these programs on the problems of energy shortage, air pollution and traffic congestion.

These steps can be taken quickly and do not require the expensive and time-consuming construction of vast new public mass transportation systems.

Many Marylanders already car-pool. I hope many more will try it. It seems to be a reasonable solution to many of the problems that our heavy traffic brings upon us.

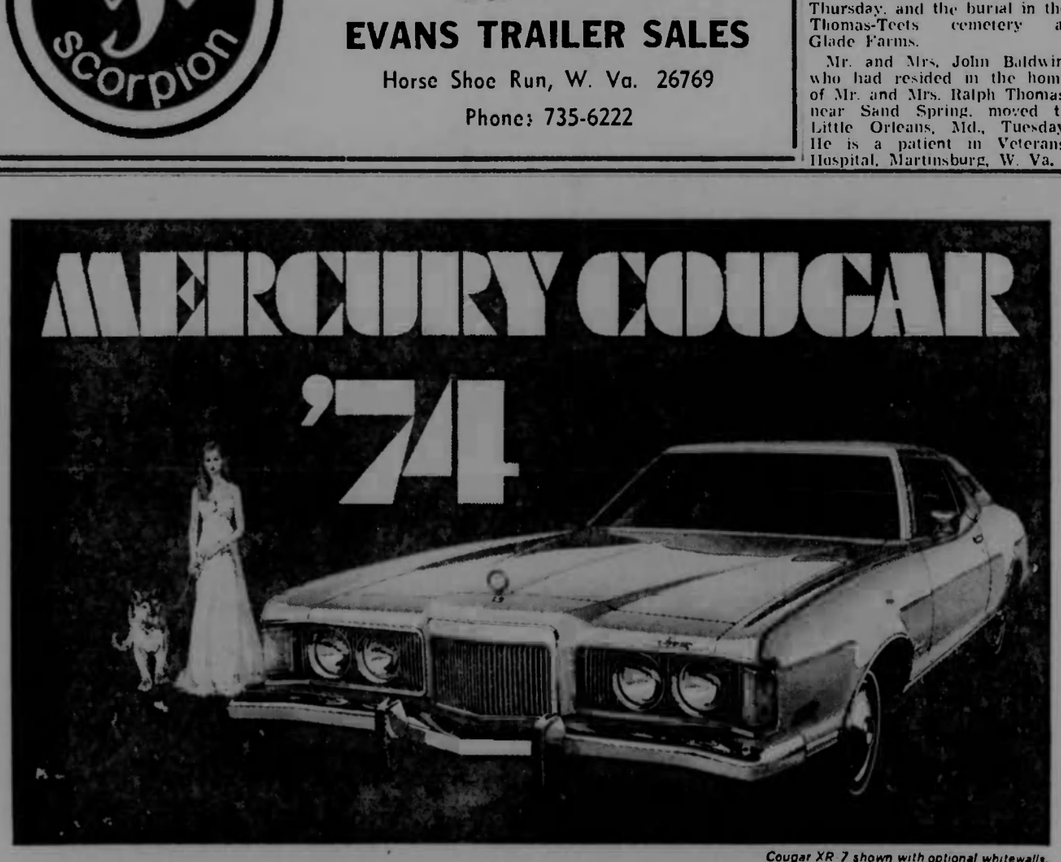
MERCURY COUGAR '74



Cougar XR-7 shown with optional whitewalls.

Sized like Grand Prix and Monte Carlo. But in every other way, it's like nobody else's car!

Our cat as the symbol of a small, sporty car is a familiar idea, but for '74 we've changed all that. For '74 Cougar is all new. We've civilized the cat—with a bold leap upward in size and elegance. With a dramatic new grille. Wide, deeply padded, glove-soft buckets. Hooded instruments embedded in rich vinyl. A whole new dimension in spacious comfort. Even the steel-belted radials are standard and the elegant Landau roof with a fashionable opera window. Still the spirit of Cougar, but civilized. The totally new and totally elegant Cougar XR-7 for '74—it's like nobody else's car!

NOTICE

OF PROPOSED TARIFF CHANGE

Notice is hereby given that Somerset Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., had filed with the Public Service Commission of Maryland a proposal to add a Purchased Power Adjustment clause to its current tariff. The proposed clause reads as follows:

PURCHASED POWER ADJUSTMENT CLAUSE

1. The Cooperative purchases all of its power requirements. Charges under the rate schedules in this tariff (except under Schedule Y) shall be increased or decreased according to the following adjustment applicable for the month when the charge is made to the consumer's account for service when the entire period of use is after the effective date hereof.

A = L x (P - 0.873 cents per KWH).

Where: "A" is the adjustment in cents per KWH rounded to the nearest hundredth of a cent per KWH. The value of "A" shall be calculated for each month.

"L" is the loss factor computed as the ratio of KWH purchased to KWH sold. It shall be taken as 1.080 until changed by subsequent filing with the commission.

"P" is the average cost per KWH of purchased power for the current month.

2. In any month when the value of "P" is within the range of 0.823 cents per KWH and 0.923 cents per KWH, (that is, within one-twentieth of a cent per KWH above or below the base cost) the adjustment will not be applied. In any month when the value of "P" is less than 0.823 cents per KWH or greater than 0.923 cents per KWH, the full amount of the adjustment shall be applied.

3. Collection of the PURCHASED POWER ADJUSTMENT from members billed on a monthly or bi-monthly schedule shall be on the regular billing next following the accrual of such adjustment.

4. For consumers billed annually under Article VIII of the Cooperative's regulations, the ADJUSTMENT shall be the average of the twelve monthly adjustments of the year rounded to the nearest hundredth of a cent per KWH and shall be included in the bill when it is rendered at the end of the year.

Further details will be supplied upon request to Somerset Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., 127 East Fairview Street, Somerset, Pennsylvania 15501, or to the Commission.

Any comment regarding this proposal should be submitted in writing, to the Public Service Commission of Maryland, 301 West Preston Street, Baltimore, Maryland 21201, within twenty (20) days after the date of this notice.
—Adv. 36-1t.

National Honors Awarded Northern Future Farmers

as part of the Vo-Ag Class and returned on Saturday to finish the work. Arrangements were made between Friends Stockyard, The First National Bank of Oakland and Oester Brothers Agway to place seventeen individual member baby beef projects on feed in the school barn. In addition Lee Shillingburg, Steyer, provided six members with Purebred Ewe projects on a 50-50 basis and Friends Stockyard furnished four brood sows on a rental of one six week old pig per litter. Those projects went to students who were unable to have a project at home.

With the animal projects underway the FFA Members turned their attention to improving the greenhouse space. Approval was obtained from the Board of Education for the Chapter to borrow $3,000. for the purchase of a 22 x 90 foot greenhouse that would provide almost 50 square feet of growing space for each student in the Greenhouse Management Course. Jim Michael of the First National Bank Lake Office gave hours and miles in arranging the loan over a three year period to be repaid by plant production. Assistance was given by W. H. Fratz in the use of a truck to move the building material. Eugene Frazee of Interstate Lumber Co. donated over 3,000 feet of lumber to construct benches. Every FFA member of Northern took part in erecting the structure, installing plumbing, heating and wiring or construction of the greenhouse benches.

Poinsettias, lilies and mums were produced for sale to students and local churches with geraniums, flower and vegetable plants completing the Greenhouse Management class project and making the payments on the building the first year.

Net results of the award winning project allowed 27 students to produce annual projects the first year with a return of over $3,000. going to individual members for their sale of baby beef, swine and sheep and adequate space is available for an expanding enrollment in Greenhouse Management. Interest in Vo-Ag and the FFA Club expanded to the junior high and the Junior North Garrett FFA was chartered for the three first years at Northern. During the current year 26 members of the two FFA Clubs at Northern will maintain their Baby Beef Projects in the barn and there are five brood sows and eleven ewes on the farm. The Greenhouse remains in full production.

Steve Wiley and Jim Durst who were Chapter President and Project Chairman were accompanied to the National Convention to receive the award by Connie Pope, Treasurer; Dorsey Guard, Sentinel; Gerald Weimer, Reporter and Junior North Garrett President and Secretary Valerie Loughrie and Roxann Resh. The delegation was supervised by Harold Loughrie Vo-Ag Teacher and FFA Advisor of both clubs.

Project Chairman Jim Durst, who is serving as Chapter President this year summed up in saying, "We started here at school where we could help ourselves. As our knowledge and incomes increase we will be able to do greater things to benefit parts of our community." The Area, State and National Award Plaques are here to remind us and the students who come in future years of the appreciation due those who aided. Not previously mentioned were B. O. Aiken, Southern States of Grantsville and Oakland, and Stanton's Mill.
